GALES DELAY OCEAN FLIGHT OF GERMANS

To-morrow or Later Before Ireland-New York Aeroplane Hop Is Started

Weather Over Mid-atlantic and Ireland Unfavorable For Attempt To-day

Baldonnel Aerodrome, Dublin, March 29.—The Junkers monoplane Bremen, lashed to the earth with ropes and its wheels blocked, rocked in an Irish gale here to-day instead of soaring across the Atlantic toward New York.

Weather conditions here were almost as bad as those reported from the middle of the Atlantic and the coast of North America. Baron Ehrenfrid Gunther von Huenefeld, backer of the transatlantic flight, had not surrendered all hope of getting off at dawn. His pilots, Capt. Herman Koehl and Arthur Spindler, were against any attempts to take off, and the Irish Free State Air Force authorities said it would be suicide to attempt a start under such conditions, with even worse prospects as the flight progressed.

The start of the flight was then postponed until to-morrow morning at the earliest.

Irish weather experts consider the Atlantic weather reports are likely to delay the flight for several days, at least for two days, unless the baron insists on starting.

RUNWAY PREPARED

A steam roller to-day lumbered up and down the stretch of a mile and a quarters of ground beyond the wooden runway, ironing out the soggy ground so the five-ton burden would not sink into the turf at the start.

The fliers had breakfast at 4 o'clock with the German consul-general and other members of the Dublin German community, and made the eight-mile trip to the aerodrome despite the weather.

TENNESSEE GIRL DIES FOLLOWING MANY OPERATIONS

Surgeons Were at Work Fifty-six Times in Four Years

Memphis, Tenn., March 29—Miss Alamada Casillo, twenty-one-year-old victim of a disease that had baffled attending physicians for several years, died here last night. She had been operated on fifty-six times since entering the hospital for removal of her appendix four years ago to no avail.

The twenty-one-year-old girl, who had become known as the "smile girl," for the constant and patient cheer with which she had borne her years of suffering, did not know until yesterday that the medical men had lost hope of aiding her.

"Please save me, doctors. Don't let me die."

That, yesterday, was her first appeal, the first break in her cheer in the four years.

WOUNDS DID NOT HEAL

Following the first operation for appendicitis, the wound could not be made to heal. Miss Casillo was treated for the various types of infection, but failed to respond. A scratch suffered later similarly became infected and did not heal.

Microscopic tests failed to show the cause. Physicians believe an organism either too small or too fragile for isolation was responsible.

PEACE EFFORTS GIVEN NEW AID

Debate in Commons Makes Plain Canada's Leading Position in Movement

Ottawa, March 29.—This week in the House of Commons has been unusual in that it brought a peace debate. The subject had frequently been mentioned incidentally in the discussion of other topics, but there had been no such extensive debate in recent times wholly devoted to peace.

After the second afternoon of debate on her proposal that a department of international peace should be added to the Government of Canada, Miss Agnes MacPhail, Progressive, Southeast Grey, Ontario, withdrew her motion, but not before it had brought denunciation of war from all quarters of the House.

It was a renewed demonstration of the fact that while opinions may differ as to the best methods to be followed, the Parliament of Canada is first and last a peace assembly of legislators.

NEW AGENCY ADVOCATED

In withdrawing her motion, Miss MacPhail expressed the hope that between now and the next session the Government would set up some agency to tell what was being done for the promotion of peace.

"While we have a superiority complex which nothing can puncture, there will always be danger of war," she said. "It cannot be true that we can always be right."

Anti-war Note From France Is Sent to the U.S.

Paris, March 29.—The Cabinet to-day fully approved Foreign Minister Aristide Briand's latest note to Francis B. Kellogg, United States Secretary of State, on the outlawing of war and it will go forward to Washington to-night.

Secrecy is being maintained about its contents in official quarters, but it is presumed the word "aggression" has been dropped as modifying wars to be outlawed.

It is expected the note will be published to-morrow.

For Fifth Time Sedition Deportation Bill Is To Be Put Before Commons

Ottawa, March 29.—For the fifth time since 1923 a bill providing that deportation for sedition may be carried out only after conviction will be introduced shortly in the Commons. Notice that the measure again will be brought down is given on to-day's order paper by Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigratfon.

On every occasion the bill was introduced, the House passed it after some discussion. The measure, however, was killed each time by the Senate.

101 DEATHS IN MEXICAN BATTLE

Fight Between Government an Anti-Government Forces in Guanajuata State

Mexico City, March 29.—Dispatches from Irapuato, Guanajuato, to-day said ninety-two insurgents, two Roman Catholic priests, the chieftain Romingo Anaya, two army officers and four soldiers had been killed in the sharpest battle which had occurred since the insurgents became active.

Forty insurgents were wounded and captured in the fighting, which took place at the San Isidro Ranch near San Francisco del Rincon Tuesday and Wednesday.

Gen. Genovevo Rivas, commander of the 43rd Regiment, and six soldiers also were wounded.

Military authorities declared the battle had dealt a death blow to the uprising in the state of Guanajuato.

One hundred and eighty horses and sixty-seven rifles were captured from the anti-government forces during the combat.

The insurgents, who numbered 300, fought for twenty-nine hours. They offered desperate resistance even to the end when fighting spread to the roofs of buildings, until it was confined to a church on the ranch, where the leaders succumbed.

FISHERMEN WIN SUIT

Vancouver, March 29—Concluding a three-day trial in the Supreme Court here, Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald awarded fifteen Sointula fishermen judgment against the Anglo-British Columbia Packing Company Ltd.

The plaintiffs claimed $7,518 damages for breach by the defendant company of a contract to employ them for the Fall salmon fishing season of 1925 at Kingcome Inlet, Alert Bay and Knight Inlet.

The amount of the judgment has not been yet determined by the judge, but it will be calculated later.

BY-ELECTION SOON IN GREAT BRITAIN

Sir Douglas Hogg Moves to Second Chamber as Lord Chancellor

London, March 29 (Canadian Press Cable)—Ministerial changes due to the promotion of the Attorney-General, Sir Douglas Hogg, to the post of Lord Chancellor in succession to Viscount Cave, the promotion of Sir Thomas Inskip from the post of Solicitor-General to be Attorney-General and the appointment of F. B. Merriman, M.P., as Solicitor-General, involve only one by-election.

This will be in the Marylebone division, which Sir Douglas has represented in the House of Commons since 1922.

SHARED IN CHURCH DEBATE

Sir Thomas Inskip, who has been member for Central Bristol since 1918, unlike his immediate predecessor as Attorney-General, will not have a seat in the Cabinet. Sir Thomas gained considerable celebrity in seconding Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, in the successful opposition to Vancouver, March 29—The hearing of the charge that Orlando Edgar Miller, psychologist, who has been conducting meetings in Vancouver, entered Canada illegally, was adjourned this morning by the immigration authorities when Commissioner A. E. Skinner was served with a writ of habeas corpus secured by Miller's counsel.

The writ is returnable at 11 a.m. to-morrow and will be argued before Mr. Justice Morrison in the Supreme Court. Meanwhile Miller is being held in the immigration building.

JURORS SELECTED FOR CURRIE SUIT

Action For $50,000 Damages to Be Heard in Ontario in April

Cobourg, Ont., March 29.—The process of selection of sixteen men from a panel of forty grand jurors for the trial of General Sir Arthur Currie's libel action against The Port Hope Guide and W. T. R. Preston was under way here to-day.

General Currie claims $50,000 damages in regard to an article concerning the Armistice Day attack on Mons by the Canadian army. The trial will open on April 16 and from the sixteen jurors chosen to-day the jury will be selected at that time.

Frank Regan, K.C., counsel for the defendants, indicated to-day he intended to serve notice of a motion to compel General Currie to attend court and answer certain questions which he declined to answer during the examination for discovery some weeks ago.

SPEECH MADE BY HUGHES IN AUSTRALIA IS SCORED

Canberra, Australia, March 29 (Canadian Press Cable, via Reuter's)—Premier Stanley M. Bruce strongly deprecates the speech of Rt. Hon. William Hughes, former Premier of Australia, at the National Labor Conference in Sydney yesterday when he opposed Italian immigration and alleged arrangements had been made between the Governments of Italy and Australia to allow immigrants from Italy to enter the Commonwealth at the rate of 300 a month.

The Premier characterized Mr. Hughes's statement as incorrect and said such remarks on international affairs by a former Prime Minister of Australia might have a disastrous effect.

DIED TO-DAY IN SOMERSET, ENGLAND; VISCOUNT CAVE

VISCOUNT CAVE DIES IN ENGLAND

Former Lord Chancellor of Britain Had Reached 72 Years of Age

Burnham, Somerset, Eng., March 29—Viscount Cave, who recently resigned as Lord Chancellor after a distinguished career at the bar, died here late to-day, aged seventy-two.

Although Viscount Cave may not go down in history as one of the really great Lord Chancellors of the century, yet his term in that august office of Great Britain is likely to be held on more than one account as memorable. A sound knowledge of law, a thorough grasp of the science of administration in its highest branches, a dignity of bearing combined with scrupulous and unaffected courtesy—these were the chief qualities which distinguished the late Lord Cave in his service to the state.

BORN IN 1856

Lord Cave, who was born in 1856, was the son of a former member of Parliament. After a distinguished career at Merchant Taylors' School and St. John's

NEWARK POLICE HUNT MURDERER

Man, Wife and Son Shot as They Lay in Their Beds

Newark, N.J., March 29.—Police here to-day are searching for the person who early yesterday morning murdered an entire family here—father, mother and son—as they lay in their beds. Those killed were: Frank S. Warren, forty-two; his wife, Edith, forty-two; and their son, Jackson S., thirteen.

Whoever committed the crime then set fire to the bedroom occupied by the parents. When firemen arrived the flames had gained such headway that the bodies of the two were burned to a crisp.

X-rays showed Warren and his wife had been killed by bullets from a twenty-two-calibre automatic pistol.

The boy, who was in his room across the hall, died of a wound above the heart inflicted by a bullet of the same calibre.

Liverpool Race Was Won by Grand Flight

Liverpool, Eng., March 29 (Canadian Press Cable).—By a neck J. T. Downing's colt, Grand Flight, won the Liverpool Spring Cup to-day from J. D. Robertson's Promptitude. Mrs. Peel's colt, First Magic, finished third, four lengths back. Sixteen good handicap horses went the mile, two furlongs and 172 yards of the eighty-year-old race.

$600 JUDGMENT FOR TEAM OF DOGS

Alaska Citizen Wins Suit in Court in New York City

New York, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Magids, fur raisers of Deering, Alaska, were rewarded yesterday for a 6,000-mile "mush" to this city. The reward was a judgment of $600 granted by Justice George I. Genung in municipal court.

The couple sought to recover the value of a team of thirteen huskies and a sled, borrowed, they said, by Louis Rotman in February, 1927, and not returned in April as he had promised.

Rotman wanted the dog-team for a journey to Nenana, in his capacity of fur buyer for Hirschel and Fretchel of New York, they testified.

The concern said Rotman had not been authorized to hire the team, but the plaintiffs replied that the firm had displayed photographs of the man and dogs as an advertisement.

"I came a long way and it cost me at least three times $600," said Magids, "but I got satisfaction."

DEATH THREAT FOLLOWS CURSE BY WITNESS

Chinese Interpreter Says He Was Twice Cursed By Witnesses

Threat of Gun Play Made During Taking of Chicken Oath

A dramatic halt came in the trial of Rex versus Chew Leong Sing before Mr. Justice McDonald in the Assize Court this morning when Yu Cheong Leong, official interpreter, believing himself cursed by the second witness in two days as he administered the chicken oath, moved for his gun.

Yu Wai, a witness for the prosecution, was standing with an axe poised in the air about to strike the head from the sacrificial bird as the closing act ofthe taking of oath, when he was heard to say something in Chinese. Yu Cheong Leong, standing nearby, darted forward, his hand going towards his right-hand hip pocket, where he carried a revolver.

"I CHOP YOUR HEAD OFF"

"Now Yu Cheong I chop your head off," were the words used by the witness at the moment, Yue Cheong asserted to police officers afterwards, describing the act as a curse intended for himself. As the words were spoken the interpreter darted forward with a sharp ejaculation. He restrained himself of his own volition, however, and contented himself with calling a warning to the witness.

"If you do that again I will shoot you down," Yu Cheong called in English.

According to a statement made by Yu Cheong to the police before the incident this morning, he says he was cursed by one witness yesterday in a similar manner, only on that occasion Joe Wong, an interpreter for the defence, was included in the alleged malediction. To-day he alone was named, he alleges.

Police officers and detectives crowded forward when the incident occurred, and Mr. Justice McDonald delivered a reprimand. Yu Wai was obliged to start all over again, and take the oath in its proper form. He signed the declaration consigning his heirs and himself to extinction if he told not the truth and burned this in front of a joss of burning tapers and joss sticks. Then he struck the head from a second chicken without spoken comment.

Later in court Yu Cheong produced a permit for the possession of the revolver he had carried, and agreed to leave the weapon at home for the remainder of the trial.

Empire Connection Valuable to South Africa, Says Smuts

Capetown, S.A., March 29 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)—Declaring no country in the world might be more sorely in need in a time of trial than South Africa, which was one of the most valuable parts of the world, and stating South Africa's association with the British Empire was its most valuable security, General Jan Christian Smuts, former Premier and leader of the South African Party, in a speech here last night expressed regret that Premier J. B. M. Hertzog had introduced in the House of Assembly the question of possible South African neutrality in the event of Great Britain being at war.

The great sheet anchor of South Africa's liberty was the British fleet, without which the country's status would not be worth the snap of one's finger, General Smuts declared.

General Smuts concluded his speech by urging his fellow countrymen to recognize their responsibilities.

SEVERAL CHARGES ARE FACED BY MAN

G. Margley Alleged to Have Made Attacks in Powell River Homes

Vancouver, March 29.—Charged with attempted burglary and with attacking three women in their homes during the night of March 24, Guiseppi Margley, brought from Powell River by provincial policemen, to-day is in the Oakalla Jail awaiting trial.

Margley was committed for trial by the magistrate at Powell River.

It was charged at the preliminary hearing that Margley went first to the home of Mrs. Isabel Alexander at 2 o'clock in the morning. Though Alexander was in a delicate state of health the man is alleged to have attacked her. She threw a plate at her assailant, cutting his head. When he left the man is said to have taken jewelry from her.

From there the man is alleged to have gone to the home of Mrs. Gladys Cornelia Eddington and to have attacked her. No robbery was attempted there.

SCISSORS AS WEAPON

Then the man was charged with having gone to the house of Mrs. Lillian McGeachy and attacked her. Mrs. McGeachy stoutly resisted, finally chasing her assailant out of her home with a pair of scissors.

Provincial Constable A. C. Sutton arrested Margley next morning.

APPEAL COURT TO RULE ON WAGES

Will Decide Position of Dishwashers in B.C. Logging Camps

Vancouver, March 29.—Judgment was reserved by the British Columbia Court of Appeal here to-day, on an appeal which raised the question whether flunkies and dishwashers in logging camps come under the Male Minimum Wage Act of British Columbia.

The court comprised Chief Justice Macdonald and Justices Galliher and M. A. McDonald.

The appellant was H. E. Field, who claimed $222 as a balance due him for wages from the respondent, the International Timber Company.

Field's action was dismissed in the county court by Judge Cayley, who held that as he was a dishwasher he ranked as a domestic servant and the Male Minimum Wage Act did not apply to him. He had been paid $3.45 a day of eight and a half hours, but he claimed for a thirteen-hour day at the rate of forty cents an hour. The company contended he was employed on three shifts which totaled eight and a half hours, and that the remainder of the time was his own.

STOCK LIST AT NEW YORK RAGGED ONE

New York, March 29.—Prices followed a ragged course on the stock market here to-day and closed decidedly irregular. Many high priced shares sagged sharply in the early trading, recovered part of their losses around noon and went into a new dive just before the close. General Motors after losing $4, closed at $185.12½, down $1.12½ on the day. Radio had a net vain at $3 after rising $6 to $173.50. Public utilities and railroads were consistently strong all day with Union Pacific, General Electric, Brooklyn Edison and Consolidated Gas leading the day.

Hen Finds Gold Nugget Close to City Outskirts

A large gold nugget was found in the gizzard of a Vancouver Island hen just outside Victoria on the Island Highway this week, according to information just received by the poultry branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture here to-day. Apparently the hen had picked up the gold while scratching in a gravel deposit about six miles from the centre of the city and on the site of the old gold trail to Leech River. The poultry branch would not disclose the name of the hen's owner for fear of causing a miniature gold stampede to his ranch. Officials said the ranch was near the Island Highway within six miles of the city and on a creek which was prospected roughly during the famous Leech River gold stampede half a century ago. Apparently the hen found gold which escaped the attention of the pioneer prospectors, and her discovery will be followed up by her owner in an attemt to discover further deposits.

Votes Send New Prayer Book Before Church Assembly

London, March 29.—The Lower House of the Convocations of Canterbury and York of the Church of England to-day gave their assent to the new Prayer Book being passed to the Church Assembly for final approval. The Lower House of Canterbury favored this action 126 to 48, and York 50 to 19.

Yesterday the Upper House of Canterbury agreed by 20 to 6 to accept the revised volume and the Upper House of York unanimously.

From the General Assembly of the Church, the Prayer Book, if approved, will be sent to Parliament for legislative approval.

FREE TRADE FIGHT SEEN IN BRITAIN

London, March 29.—"The free trade struggle has begun again," former Premier David Lloyd George, Liberal Leader, declared in addressing a Liberal industrial conference here this afternoon.

"Protection," he said, "will be the cry of the Tory Party under another name at the next election."

Up to the present, continued Mr. Lloyd George, the Conservatives had irrigated a few industries with tariffs, but next it would be iron and steel.

"It means the bursting of the dam," he said. "All the industries of this country will be inundated and many hopelessly swamped."

SCHOOL WILL TRAIN WORKERS

Technical Instruction Essential, Speakers Tell Parents

Claiming that the present system of education in Victoria was inadequate because it provided only for those desiring an academic training, J. S. McMillan outlined the proposal for a technical school in Victoria, at a meeting held under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association at South Park School last night.

"Our system to-day has operated for many years with but few changes, and it is the opinion of educationists that this system is defective, in so far as it only provides education for those who desire academic training," he said.

TO WORK WITH HANDS

A truly democratic system should provide facilities for those who do not desire this training but who wished to do something with their hands; hence the need of training along technical and artistic lines. A school of this nature would meet the requirements of Victoria for many years to come. It would relieve the High School of 500 pupils who were taking commercial and technical subjects, and thus give for several years sufficient room for academic students.

Mr. McMillan stated that the proposed school building if erected would really be five schools in one, for in it would be taught the commercial course, the technical course, applied art, music and household economics.

He had particular interest in the art department of the new school, since art was his life work, and he was convinced that hand and brain working together were more effective in developing thought, skill, self reliance and character than the brain when called upon to function separately.

COIN IS FOUND IN BIG SALMON

Kyuquot, B.C., March 29—A Canadian five-cent silver coin which may have traveled thousands of miles in the ocean was discovered inside a thirty - five - pound Spring salmon caught in Quatsino Bay by John Nelson of New Westminster, while trolling in his gasboat, Western Boy.

One side of the coin is completely smooth, but on the other side the features of King George are still clear. It is believed the fish swallowed the coin while it was sinking after being dropped from a vessel.

FUTURE OF B.C. STATED BRIGHTEST IN THE EMPIRE

Manson Tells Grandview Chamber of Commerce of Province's Development

Vancouver, March 29—"Nobody's lot is cast in a more promising land than those who were born or have come to British Columbia, declared Hon. A. M. Manson, K.C., in an address at the annual banquet fo the Grandview Chamber of Commerce last evening.

"The father who wants his sons and daughters to carve out their careers under the British flag can, if he will only acquaint himself with the facts, point out more varied opportunities for a successful livelihood in this Province than can be found in any similar area in the world," said the Attorney-General of British Columbia.

Mr. Manson gave his audience some of the facts. He contrasted the viewpoint of the Fathers of Confederation who took British Columbia into the union with trepidation at the probable formidable cost of what seemed to them an uneconomic sacrifice to Empire unity with the condition that existed to-day.

PEACE EFFORTS GIVEN NEW AID

Women, she said, were keenly aware of war. They placed a higher value on human life because they suffered so much for it, and for this reason they should have a voice in Parliament. The sacrifices of 1914 to 1918, she declared, should be crystallized into something which would prevent a recurrence of war.

EDUCATION NEEDED

Sir George Perley, Conservative, Argenteuil, Quebec, said the League of Nations had performed commendable work in preventing wars and solving labor, health and other social promlems, but something should be done in the way of bringing to the direct attention of the people of all countries the objects and benefits of the League.

In Canada the League of Nations Society, with headquarters in Ottawa, might be profitably utilized for educational purposes of this nature.

Sir George thought the best way of promoting international understanding would be for all the peoples of those countries which were members of the League of Nations to get behind their governments in supporting the League.

Premier King said that in this year's estimates there was an item of $2,250, to assist the work of the League of Nations Society of Canada.

NEILL'S VIEWS

A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, approved the sentiments expressed by Sir George Perley and hoped they would assist in dissipating that reluctance with which Parliament had sometimes passed the votes for the League of Nations' expenditure.

Mr. Neill was opposed to dropping the resolution. Either it had a purpose or it had not, he said.

It would have been a better resolution had it called for a strong endorsation of Canada's membership in the League.

PASSION FOR PEACE

H. C. Hocken, Conservative, Toronto West Centre, said he believed the Empire was the greatest guarantee of peace in the world to-day. There should be no fears with such a spirit in this country. Canadians were too busy building up their country for such things. There was, in fact, a passion for peace.

ALL MINISTERS GIVE INFLUENCE

The attitude of the Government was expressed by Premier King when the motion was first discussed on Monday afternoon last. The Prime Minister said he agreed with Miss MacPhail that goodwill should be stimulated among the nations. A peace mentality should be substituted for war mentality. But he thought the scope of Miss MacPhail's resolution for the establishment of a department of peace was too limited. The promotion of peace was no matter for one government department. It was a matter of spirit and attitude on the part of the administration in charge of the country's affairs.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

the new Prayer Book of the Church of England in the House of Commons last December.

Frank Boyd Merriman, the new Solicitor-General, has represented the Rusholme Division of Manchester in the House of Commons since 1924. He is comparatively unknown as a parliamentarian, but he has an excellent reputation at the bar.

Sir Douglas Hogg has been made a baron and Mr. Merriman has been knighted.

London, March 29 (Canadian Press Cable)—Sir Douglas Hogg's appointment to the post of Lord Chancellor in succession to Viscount Cave is generally received with satisfaction, though there is general regret that Viscount Cave's resignation was due to the critical condition of his health. Nobody immediately in the public eye seems more fitted than the former Attorney-General for the post of Lord Chancellor.

Sir Douglas, however, indubitably will feel more than a twinge of regret at leaving the House of Commons, which he liked and which liked him, although he has been a member of the Commons less than six years. His retirement from the Commons will entail a severe loss to the ministerial front bench, as the Government members regarded him as possessed of exceptional ability in piloting intricate contentious measures through the House.

Sir Douglas Hogg, who has been created a baron, has been member of the Commons for Marylebone.

ARRIVAL OF CAPT. COOK BEING MARKED IN SCHOOLS

In March, 1778, Famous British Explorer and Navigator First Put His Foot on Shores of British Columbia; Discoveries Put Him in Ranks of World's Great Navigators; Anniversary Being Marked in Victoria Schools To-day by Special Lessons

To-day marks the sesqui-centennial anniversary of the landing of Captain James Cook, famous navigator and explorer, on the shores of what is now known as British Columbia. The anniversary is being marked in all the public schools of Victoria by lessons to-day on the famous British adventurer.

On August 13, 1924, a party headed by the then Lieutenant-Governor, the Hon. W. C. Nichol, and numbering several members of the Historical Society of Canada, visited Nootka to unveil a monument in commemoration of this interesting incident and that which took place in 1790, twelve years after Capt. Cook's visit, when Capt. Vancouver and other representatives of England met representatives of Spain to settle by arbitration the disposition of the then disputed territory. On this occasion, four years ago, was re-enacted by the natives the form of welcome given to Capt. Cook and in his address the Hon. W. C. Nichol recalled the incident of 1778 as follows:

"Having been commissioned by the British Government to examine the coast line in search of a passage to the eastward, Captain Cook set out on his third and last voyage in 1776. Reaching the Northwest coast in 1778 he experienced bad weather. Passing the Strait of Juan de Fuca unnoticed he proceeded northward and, with leaky ships, sought a safe shelter where repairs could be effectd. Thus it was that in the early part of 1778 Captain Cook discovered this place, which he first of all named King George's Sound, but later changed to Nootka under the impression that this was the Indian name. Here he remained about a month refitting his ships and making a plan of the sound. One of his midshipmen was George Vancouver, who was destined to achieve fame in the same region."

The following inscription is on the memorial tablet of the monument unveiled by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada on this occasion four years ago at the Friendly Cove, the tiny Indian village about three miles from Nootka.

"Nootka Sound, discovered by Captain Cook in March, 1778. In June, 1789, Spain took possession and established a settlement until 1795. The capture of British vessels in 1789 almost led to war, which was avoided by the Nootka convention, 1790. Vancouver and Quadra met here in August, 1792, to determine the land to be restored under the convention."

CAPT. COOK

James Cook was born October 27, 1728, at Marton, in Cleveland, a small village four miles from Great Ayton, Yorkshire. His father was a servant to a farmer, and both he and his wife were known for their many fine qualities. Such was the regard in which they were held that when James was but two years old, his father was given appointment as superintendent of a large farm at Great Ayton, belonging to Thomas Scottowe.

James grew up on this farm and it was intended that he should follow his father's footsteps and become a tiller of the soil. At the age of thirteen he was entered at Mr. Pullen's school at Ayton, to study arithmetic and book-keeping, and soon won notice by his love for mathematics.

He showed a preferment for business rather than farming, and when he was seventeen his father had him apprenticed to a grocer at Snaith.

A small disagreement taking place with his employer, the grocer released him from his articles, and the Empire lost a grocer and obtained its most illustrious navigator.

Always having a longing for the sea, he went to Whitby, where he was apprenticed to a firm of shipowners for a term of three years. In this service he soon distinguished himself, and when his time was up he joined a vessel in the Baltic trade. In 1752 he was promoted to be mate of the Friendship, and before long was offered the command of a vessel, which he declined.

MEMORIAL TABLET

When war broke out in 1755 between Great Britain and France, the merchant service was raided by pressgangs from the navy, and at first Cook thought of concealing himself while his vessel was in the Thames, but on thinking matters over, determined that he would prefer to serve his country as a volunteer, so enlisted in the navy, and was sent on board the sixty-gun ship Eagle, commanded by Captain Hamer.

In recognition of his services at the conquest of Canada, he was on April 1, 1760, commissioned as a lieutenant, and took part in 1762 in the recapture of Newfoundland. While on the Newfoundland station he surveyed the waters of the vicinity to such purpose that he won the attention of Captain Graves, governor of the island. On his return to England late in 1762, he married a young woman whom he had known since her infancy.

It was on March 7, 1778, that he first sighted the coast of "New Albion," off the coast of Northern California. There followed storms and rain and fog, and the Resolution and Discovery were buffeted and battered by contrary seas.

Then, on March 29, land was again sighted and the vessels came to anchor in eighty-five fathoms of water, so close to the shore that it could be reached with a hawser.

On his arrival in this inlet Capt. Cook had honored it with the name of King George Sound, but he afterwards found that it was called Nootka by the natives.

DEATH THREAT FOLLOWS CURSE BY WITNESS

has interpreted the evidence throughout, proving himself an adept at the work. He was employed for two years at the Supreme Court in Hongkong as official translator and interpreter, and has been attached to the R.C.M.P. in British Columbia for several years past. When he had recovered possession of himself he apologized to the Court, and the hearing proceeding without further incident.

Chew Leong Sing is facing trial on a charge of attempted murder, following the wounding of Wong Lim on the night of February 5, and also on a second count, that of taking part in an affray. A. D. Macfarlane appears for the Crown, and Stuart Henderson for the defence.

Evidence given to-day by the prosecution included the testimony of several Chinese witnesses. Some took an oath on the Bible, and others considered the chicken oath as binding to themselves to tell the truth. Sue Len Bing, Yu Wai and Hong Wai took the stand this morning. The trial continues.

After the incident to-day the provincial police doubled the armed guards in the courtroom, and stood police officers in the public galleries. The hearing has been attended throughout by several score of Chinese who have pressed into the public galleries.

Eight witnesses for the Crown took the stand yesterday, reciting to the jury what they knew about the street affray of February 5 when Wong Lim was wounded by gunfire on Douglas Street in what the prosecution asserts was an attempt to kill him.

At the request of the defence Chinese witnesses took the King's oath, involving the sacrifice of a rooster, and the burning of a signed declaration before a little joss of burning tapers and punk sticks. The form of the oath, said to be the most binding for those from certain provinces of China, was couched as follows:

"Being a true witness I shall enjoy happiness, and my sons and grandsons will prosper forever. If I falsely accused Chew Leong Sing I shall die on the street; Heaven will punish me; earth will destroy me; I shall forever suffer adversity, and all my offspring will be exterminated. In burning this oath I humbly submit myself to the will of Heaven, which has brilliant eyes to see. Sworn in the seventeenth year of the Republic, the fourth day of the third moon."

Wong Lim, victim of the street fight described by the prosecution, was the first to take the oath. He had difficulty in beheading the roaster held out for him on a block, but accomplished it finally by discarding a knife and taking an axe. Wong Chee Wah, the next witness, burned the usual declaration before the joss and then struck the head from his sacrificial bird with a single stroke of the axe. The headless body fluttered about the street for a time, while the witness, prisoner, jury and Court looked on. All forms compiled with Wong Lim and Wong Chee Wah took the stand in turn, and recited the story given by them at the first trial.

With an adjournment to the open air for the administering of the oath in the case of each Chinese witness, and with the necessity for bi-lingual interpretation of the evidence, the hearing is expected to continue all day to-day and may run into Friday. At its close prisoners held on conviction in other cases will be brought up for sentence.

"As an art man I have a lively faith in the artistic crafts as a means to educate the child," he said.

Mr. McMillan said that many people complained of the technical training since the pupil when leaving it was not ready to enter a trade and at once able to draw full union wages, but had to, more or less, start in at the bottom and work up.

"This is quite true in one sense," Mr. McMillan pointed out. "This technical school will not in any way be a 'trade school,' in the sense that it will not train the student for any particular line of trade. Its objective is to give a good broad fundamental training to include general education in English, history, civics, economics, mathematics, and the sciences with application in the workshops. The shops will apply principles of construction which will prepare the lad for vocational employment in the industrial world or on the farm and this training will be especially adapted to the needs of this community."

Other speakers were A. Young and Dr. David Donald, the Medical Health Officer of the city schools. Dr. Donald stated a technical school was an invaluable asset to any city. It was a crime, he said, when any boy who was backward in the academic subjects at a high school was called a "dub" and then not be given a chance to show his worth in other subjects. Time after time, he said, boys who could not study Latin and French and science were brilliant lights when it came to the study of gas engines or the understanding of electricity and other mechanical appliances.

William Lorimer, president of the South Park Parent-Teacher Association, was chairman of the meeting, and under his direction a short musical programme was given. This programme included a Russian dance by the Misses Helen and Fay Ockenden, a vocal duet by the Misses Clare Green and Peggy Macdougal, and a pianoforte solo by Miss Hilda Graham.

College, Oxford, he devoted himself closely to the bar. His work lay almost entirely on that laborious and unspectacular side known as the Chancery Division, where he acquired a large and probably a lucrative practice. In 1906 he entered Parliament as member for Kingston, in Surrey. He made his home in the neighboring and equally historical borough of Richmond, and gave largely of his time and talents to local administrative and philanthropic enterprise. In 1915 Sir George Cave, as he then was, took office in the first Coalition Government as Solicitor-General. A year later Premier Lloyd George selected him for the Home Secretaryship.

In 1918 he was appointed a Lord of Appeal, and was created a viscount. In 1924 Lord Cave joined Mr. Baldwin's Cabinet as Lord Chancellor. The choice was not unexpected and it was well received by all sections of opinion. Lawyers welcomed it because they foresaw that during Lord Cave's occupancy of the Woolsack there would proceed quiet steady attention to the administrative duties of the position, coupled with sane and well-balanced, if not outstandingly brilliant, legal judgments.

VISITED CANADA

In 1920 Lord and Lady Cave visited Canada and the United States. Lord Cave delivered the principal address at the annual conventions of the Canadian Bar Association and the American Bar Association. The Canadian Bar Association meeting was at Ottawa, and addresses were also delivered by Sir James Aikins, ex-President Taft and Sir Auckland Geddes.

Among other high offices Viscount Cave held was that of Chancellor of Oxford University, to which he was elected in July, 1925.

LABRADOR DISCUSSION

Perhaps the most important appeal to the Privy Council over which Lord Cave presided was that in which Canada and Newfoundland were opposed, when the Judicial Committee was asked to define the legal position in regard to the boundaries of the two countries on the Labrador Peninsula. The decision of the Privy Council, it will be remembered, went practically entirely in favor of Newfoundland.

There is no heir to the Viscounty.

In his beneficient work for the county of Surrey, Viscount Cave was most ably seconded by Viscountess Cave, who was also possessed of considerable literary attainments.

FUTURE OF B.C. STATED BRIGHTEST IN THE EMPIRE

FARM GROWTH

"Who would then have conceived of British Columbia as an agricultural province?" the speaker asked. "Yet we have vast, unrivaled grain producing areas in the north, an ideal mixed farming country in the centre, range land farther south, fruit lands in the Okanagan and a rich dairy and mixed farming area in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island."

FIGURES GIVE PROOF

British Columbia to-day was the third manufacturing province in Canada, he said. He cited statistics showing the amazing growth of the last ten years in all lines of production. Agricultural production had increased 121 per cent, he said. Lumbering production had increased 138 per cent. Mining had increased 58 per cent. Fishing had increased 89 per cent.

The industrial payroll had increased by $100,000,000. Capital invested had increased from $650,000,000 to $1,837,000,000. Production in all basic industries combined had increased by $19,000,000 in 1926 as against 1925.

Production in the pulp and paper industry during the past five years had been 368 per cent greater than in the preceding five years, he said.

MINING FIELD

Speaking of the mining industry, Mr. Manson referred to the great development in the past and commented that to-day capital was flowing in for development in proportions never before experienced. He warned against indiscreet investments in what had the appearance of being a mining boom.

"I hope the people keep their heads," he said. "I want to encourage people to invest in mining, but I urge you to investigate the facts concerning any particular enterprise before you put up your money."

GOES TO SANITARIUM

Los Angeles, March 29.—The battle over charges of insanity and inebriety which C. C. Julian, oil and mining promoter, had hurled against his wife was announced to-day as ended late yesterday by her agreement not to fight the intemperance charge and to enter a sanitarium for several months to recover her health.

World Plane Flight Is Latest Report About Lindbergh

Washington, March 29.—The State Department has something up its sleeve in connection with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's plans, and because of its reticence a lot of speculation is going the rounds, including a report that the transatlantic flier is to be sent on a goodwill trip around the world.

Colonel Lindbergh took off from Bolling Field yesterday for the South on a secret mission, arriving at Lexington, Kentucky., in the afternoon.

Another rumor is that Colonel Lindbergh is concerned with mapping out a definite programme for aeroplane service to Central and South America.

None of the reports has been confirmed. All of them arose from a brief conference the aviator had here.

RACE IS WON BY PRINCE OF WALES

Frensham, Surrey, Eng., March 29.—Despite being thrown by a favorite hunter, Miss Muffett II, during the Highland Brigade Steeplechase meeting at Stockington to-day, the Prince of Wales remounted and won the race.

The Prince, riding in a race for officers, competed as Colonel-in-Chief of the Seaforth Highlanders.

The weather conditions were most unfavorable for racing, with a heavy wind and a pouring rain. Making the pace practically throughout, however, the Prince won handily.

Defence Debate In Great Britain

London, March 29 (Canadian Press Cable)—The striking suggestion that General Jan C. Smits, former Premier of South Africa and present leader of the Opposition in the South African Parliament, should be appointed to fill the post of Minister of Defence in the British Government if the Liberal proposal of the combining of the three fighting forces, land, sea and air, should be carried into effect, was made in the House by Commander C. Bellairs, Conservative, Maidstone. Commander Bellairs based his suggestion on the fact that General Smuts was an eminent statesman and a great soldier.

OPINIONS ON SENATE REFORM FOUND DIVIDED

Montreal, March 29—As the representatives of the nine provinces at the Federal-Provincial Conference last November had failed to show unanimity in the matter of the reform of the Senate and the matter of amending the constitution, the matter had ended there, declared Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, speaking at a dinner of the Outremont Liberal Club here.

At the conference, on one of the questions, four provinces had pronounced themselves in favor of reform of the Senate, and on the other question, that of amending the constitution of Canada, he said, five out of nine had declared themselves in the affirmative.

Governor Visits Nanaimo To-day

Nanaimo, March 22—Lieut.-Governor R. Randolph Bruce and Miss Mackenzie, his niece, arrived here to-day on their first official visit to Nanaimo. They were guests of honor at a luncheon given by Nanaimo Kiwanis and at an afternoon tea given by the Women's Auxiliary of First Nanaimo Troop, Boy Scouts. The Lieutenant-Governor will review the scouts before proceeding to Ladysmith.

Wheat Threshed Late Is Success

Montreal, March 29.—"Snowed up Spring wheat, now being cut and threshed, is grading higher and bringing a better price than that cut at the regular season last Autumn. At least that applies to a number of farms in Alberta, notably a large 13,000-acre farm near Calgary, upon which only part of the crop could be cut last year," according to T. O. F. Herzer, manager of the Canada Colonization Association, Winnipeg.

CITY MANAGER PLAN SPREADS RAPIDLY

New York, March 29.—The city manager plan of government, inaugurated in three minor American cities in 1912, has spread across the country in the subsequent fifteen years until to-day 380 city manager municipalities dot the map.

"The plan has been received with approval nearly everywhere that it has received a fair trial," says Clinton Rogers Woodruff, authority on civil government, who brings out these facts in a survey presented in the March issue of the Review of Reviews.

Although the argument was made for many years that a non-political management of city business would not be as applicable to major cities as to smaller communities, Mr. Woodruff points out that Cleveland, the country's sixth largest city, and also Cincinnati, Kansas City and Indianapolis now have given the plan a thorough trial with evident success.

Particularly he cites the success of Col. Clarence O. Sherrill, former army engineer, in Cincinnati "where he has consolidated twenty-six administrative departments into fifteen, with a consequent saving in personnel, money and effort."

CITES EVIDENCE OF SUCCESS

The success of the city manager plan, Mr. Woodruff shows, is most clearly shown by the fact that the plan is being adopted most rapidly in the regions where it is best known. Four out of every five city charters drafted at present embody the plan, he finds.

For example, it was adopted in Dayton in 1913, and now sixteen Ohio cities have it. It got an early start in three small cities in Michigan, and now thirty-five Michigan cities have adopted it. There are nineteen cities in California, and in Virginia one-fifth of the population lives under city manager plans. Texas has twenty-five cities operating under the plan, ranging in size from Lufkin, with 3,958 persons, to Fort Worth with 106,482.

The plan, which usually calls for the engagement of a city executive on a strictly business basis by an elective council, will spread even more rapidly within the next few years, Mr. Woodruff's Review of Reviews article predicts.

"A number of cities voted to adopt the plan at the November elections and Rochester elected its first group of councilmen under its new city manager charts," he points out. "Political scientists without exception consider it the best form of city government and college political science courses teach it as accepted doctrine."

NEW FIELDS FOR YOUNG FASCISTS

Rome, March 29—Il Tevere, strong Fascist newspaper, to-day hailed Premier Mussolini's projected reform of the legal status of the organizations of youth, the Balila and the Avanguardista, as necessary in view of the criticism by Pope Pius of the Fascist training of youth.

Premier Mussolini said 80,000 members of the organizations should be brought into the regular Fascist Party.

Yesterday's Fascist newspapers interpreted the Premier's words as meaning he was determined on the "Fascistization" of the youth of Italy, with the state controlling education.

Il Tevere said the Pope's speech to the Diocesan Board of Rome "has disoriented the public conscience," but it "does not disorient the state, which has a duty to fulfill. This corresponds to its action in history and it would be denying its own existence to accept discussion of its vital manifestation.

"To renounce the education of youth or even admit sharing it with another would be tantamount to betraying itself, renouncing five years of propaganda and work."

Sir Douglas Hogg Is Named British Lord Chancellor

London, March 29.—Sir Douglas McGarel Hogg, Attorney-General, is the new Lord Chancellor, succeeding Viscount Cave, whose resignation, because of ill health, was announced Tuesday.

Sir Thomas Inskip, Solicitor-General, has been appointed Attorney-General, and Frank Boyd Merriman is the new Solicitor-General.

The King has conferred an earldom on Viscount Cave, a barony on Sir Douglas Hogg and a knighthood on Mr. Merriman.

The appointment of Sir Douglas M. Hogg as Lord Chancellor makes vacant the seat for Marylebane, one of the London boroughs.

The vote in 1924 stood: Sir Douglas M. Hogg (Conservative) 24,359; G. E. Elmer (Labor) 8,782.

FARM COUNCIL IS REORGANIZED

United Grain Growers of Prairies Withdrawn From Country-wide Body

Winnipeg, March 29.—The United Grain Growers Limited and the Grain Growers' Guide, two commercial organizations identified with the Canadian Council of Agriculture for a number of years, have withdrawn from membership in the Council, according to an official announcement issued here.

The withdrawal of the two organizations will permit the reorganization of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. A committee consisting of two representatives each of the United Farmers of Manitoba, Alberta and Ontario, was appointed to the annual meeting of the Council yesterday to arrange for the reorganization. The committee, it is announce, will confer with the officials of the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada, which group withdrew from the Canadian Council of Agriculture when it joined the Dominion body.

ONLY FARM MEMBERS

The Saskatchewan section already has expressed its willingness to join the Council as soon as it consists of bona fide farmers without support from commercial organizations.

IMMIGRATION DISCUSSION

At yesterday's session of the Council's annual convention a recommendation was presented by the women's section asking that the Canadian Council of Immigration of Women be reorganized. This was approved.

A number of other resolutions, dealing with different phases of immigration, were passed by the Council.

The Council will urge the Federal Department of Immigration to take steps to increase the responsibility of persons nominating immigrants, and that the regulations preventing the immigration of children of school age, without parents or guardians, be made permanent.

Opposition to tariff protection was reaffirmed in one resolution. Exemption of duty on goods to the value of $100, purchased by Canadian tourists in the United States, was urged.

RESEARCH WORK

Resolutions were adopted recommending to the Federal Government the removal of discrimination against agricultural scientists now existing in the civil service salary classification and urging that nothing be allowed to stand in the way of prosecuting rust research work.

SENATORS HEAR ROBERTSON SPEAK ON COMMUNISM

Ottawa, March 29.—In the debate on Senator C. P. Beaubien's resolution on communistic propaganda on Canada, Hon. Gideon Robertson, Conservative, Ontario, said in the Senate yesterday the subject was of world-wide concern. The foreign population of Canada was not all communistic, but many came from countries where they had not the advantage that was given the native-born here, and he wondered whether if Canadians had been born in the conditions of the Ukranians they would not have been susceptible to communistic propaganda. To defeat the purpose of the communists every effort should be made to give proper instruction to new settlers, he said. Communism was brought to this country through Rusisan agents, who established a propaganda bureau in New York, and who gave financial assistance to the Winnipeg "Revolutionists."

Senator Robertson said there were communist schools in Montreal, and that during the Winnipeg strike a prominent philanthropic social worker in Montreal had written the Winnipeg revolutionists advising them to adopt a soviet constitution. Great responsibility rested upon the large interests who were encouraging immigration.

STRIKE RECALLED

While there had been a decrease in communistic activities after the Winnipeg strike until 1924, since then the menace had again appeared, especialily in the schools, Senator Robertson said. Communists favored industrial instead of craft organizations.

There had recently been organized in Canada the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, which included the Brotherhood of Railway Employees, the One Big Union and the Electrical Workers' Association, Senator Robertson said. The reason he had raised this question was that the Government should know the character and numerical strength of this organization. While it was clamoring for recognition, he said, it would be found it was not entitled to much consideration.

RULING IS APPEALED

Vancouver, March 29.—Of great interest to the lumbering industry, because affecting logging camps, is an appeal to the British Columbia Court of Appeal by H. E. Field from a judgment of Judge Cayley here dismissing his action to recover $222 from the International Timber Company. The judge decided Field had been employed by the defendant as a flunkey and that flunkies and dishwashers ranked as domestic servants and therefore the Minimum Wage Act did not apply to them. Fields claims a balance of wages on the basis of forty cents an hour for a thirteen-hour day. He had been paid $3.45 a day for working three shifts.

V.C. CASH GRANTS

Ottawa, March 29—Lieut.-Colonel L. R. Laflèche, vice-president of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, submitted to the pensions committee of the House yesterday a proposal whereby holders of the Victoria Cross resident in Canada would get a cash grant. Under the proposal, the grant, in the event of holder of the V.C. having died, would be passed on to the next of kin, limited to close relationship. No amount was specifically proposed, although $500 was suggested.

NEW SCHEMES TO INCREASE EMPIRE'S FARM PRODUCTION

London, March 29 (Canadian Press Cable). — The Imperial Agricultural Research Conference, which met in London last October, in its report, just made public, recommends the creation of an Empire chain of agricultural research stations. The report also recommends the creation in Great Britain of clearing houses of information on agricultural science for the purpose of serving the whole Empire, and the training of scientific workers in agriculture for the Empire. It suggests training stations should be located in Queensland, Ceylon, East Africa, West Africa and Malaya. Ten highly qualified men should be the minimum staff at a station, the report suggests, and the annual maintenance is estimated at £20,000.

The report emphasizes the need of highly trained men for colonial agricultural service and suggests scholarships should be founded with a view to promoting agriculture. It also recommends the establishment of "correspondence centres" and bureaus as smaller clearing houses of information at an estimated cost of £20,000 annually, this fund to be administered by a body of men on which the governments of the Dominions and India should be represented.

BRITAIN'S GREATEST NAVIGATOR

MEASURED BY THE SCOPE OF HIS explorations Captain James Cook probably stands at the head of the long list of intrepid navigators who bore the British flag upon the seven seas. Considering the consequences of his activities in their relation to the growth of the British Empire and their effect upon civilization generally, we would say that Captain Cook deserves a higher place in history than many eminent sailors whose exploits in battle were rewarded with high distinction and imposing emoluments at the hands of a grateful country. If the achievements of this extraordinary man have been less renowned in the public mind than the more spectacular activities of great seamen in war, calm and impartial judgment should now regard them for the most part as more useful. He hoisted the standard of his country over Australia, New Zealand, and, later, crossing the broad Pacific in 1778, he landed at Nootka, the first English-speaking navigator to set foot on the coast of what afterwards became known as British Columbia. With Cook on that historic voyage was George Vancouver, then a midshipman, who fourteen years afterwards was to continue the chapter of British exploration in these waters.

Captain Cook was not the first navigator to explore the north Pacific, having been preceded by Perez and Quadra along our own coast and, farther north, by Bering and Chirikof. But none of the Spanish or Russian explorers covered so vast an area as Cook, whose explorations carried him up the coast through the Bering Sea and the Bering Strait into the Arctic Ocean. He already had traversed Antarctic regions as well as the southern Pacific. Prior to all this he had sailed to Newfoundland and Labrador. His record thus would seem to place him ahead of both Drake and Frobisher as an explorer, but he did not receive the recognition which was shown to those famous mariners and warriors. It is eminently fitting that Canada, Australia and New Zealand should use their growing influence in establishing in the pages of history as well as in the grateful remembrance of the people of the Britannic Commonwealth the high place which rightfully belongs to him.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS IN U.S.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS TOOK A TOLL of 26,618 lives in the United States during 1927. This information has been compiled by the American Road Builders' Association. It also is pointed out that serious injury occurred to 798,700 persons, making an economic loss for the year of $672,097,000. This loss does not include minor damage to motor vehicles or accident insurance premiums.

The highway accident figures are based on an increase of 5.2 per cent. over 1926. The association reported 25,302 persons killed in that year, in addition to 759,500 seriously injured. The increase of 5.2 per cent. was shown in a progress report assembled by the Bureau of Census.

Grade crossing fatalities show a decrease for the first eleven months of 1927, the number of persons killed totalling 2,120 as compared with 2,244 for the same months of 1926. Grade crossing fatalities in 1926 had increased from 2,206 in 1925. The continued increase in the number of highway accidents has caused the association to renew its efforts toward bringing organizations interested in the problem into closer co-ordination.

"The unfortunate increase in highway accidents makes imperative an immediate adoption of uniform traffic codes, and an expansion of the nation's road building programmes," officials of the association declare. "The human factor is the main element contributing to these accidents, but that human factor could to a large extent be offset by adequate motoring facilities and regulation, coupled with the individual practice of courtesy and caution."

FRUITS AND PROFITS

FREQUENTLY THE EARLIEST VARIEties of fruit and vegetables command the best prices as they come on the market ahead of the general crop. This is not always the case, however, and it is interesting to note that New York dealers have recently expressed a desire to get in touch with Nova Scotia producers of strawberries in order to supply their customers with the last strawberries grown on the North American continent. During recent years the strawberry industry in Nova Scotia has shown steady and rapid expansion and the trade in Boston is reported as well satisfied with the quality of berries received from Yarmouth, Annapolis Valley and other parts of Nova Scotia. Provincial Government officials see an excellent outlook for an increased export trade.

Incidentally, it may be remarked that at the opposite extremity of this country there is another late strawberry district in which a quite profitable industry is growing up in part due to this seasonal advantage. This is around Terrace, about ninety miles east of Prince Rupert. In this locality the neighboring high mountains serve to temper the heat of Summer while the sea breezes which blow up and down the valley play an important part in maintaining a uniform temperature. Terrace strawberries attain splendid size and have a delicious flavor. They find a ready market when the sources of other berries are exhausted and daily shipments go west to Prince Rupert and east to Edmonton, Saskatoon, Winnipeg and other prairie points. Canada imports large quantities of early fruit and vegetables from the United States. There would seem to be excellent opportunities for a reciprocal trade in late varieties, not only in Nova Scotia and British Columbia, but also, for instance, in Northern Ontario.

ALL FAVOR TECHNICAL EDUCATION

"I THINK THE MANUFACTURERS should favor the movement for technical education as it will result in more skilled labor and trade workers. Instead of a boy leaving school to fill a 'blind' job he will be able to fit himself for a vocation which suits him before he leaves school."

The foregoing comments were made by Mr. J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, in an address before the Victoria and Island Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday.

For a number of years Mr. McNiven has had ample opportunity to study at close range the workers of this Province. His official position naturally has brought him into contact with employees and employers in practically all branches of industry in British Columbia. He has been able to compare the work of the technically-trained boy and the boy who has not had the advantage of pre-vocational tuition. The odds, of course, are all in favor of the former.

How the members of the Manufacturers' Association are profiting in their employment of the boys whom the Vancouver Technical School is turning out may be understood from the following representative comments of a few employers in that city:

"We have had five boys in all and the writer is pleased to say that they are far better than any we could have got in the ordinary way. They are as good as any we have had in the shop for two years without technical training, and we have no hesitation in saying that the boys are brighter and sharper about their work."—Canadian Bag Company.

"We are thoroughly satisfied with these boys. In future we will take none but Technical School boys for apprentices."—Carroll Electric Company.

"We have found that the school provides an excellent medium for the supply of young men suitably prepared and willing to adopt our profession."—G. A. Roedde Limited.

"Our experience in employing youths, technical students and others, is that the technical boys fit into place much more readily than the untrained student."—Central Sheet Metal Works.

It is to be noted that one Rhodes scholarship and a number of leading executive posts have fallen to the lot of Vancouver boys who have graduated from the technical school there.

One of the principal recommendations in favor of a technical school, of course, is the training it enables the boys and girls of poor or only moderately well-off parents to take and equip themselves for their life's work. It puts them more nearly on a level with boys and girls upon whose earning capacity replenishment of the family larder does not depend.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CRIME AND THE WORLD WAR

From The Minneapolis Journal

Colonel Robins, we believe, is all wrong when he blames the crime wave on the backwash of the World War. Most of to-day's criminals were boys in knee breeches when the World War ended. Crime has become more prevalent simply because, in the last two decades, the criminal's risk of punishment has been gradually shrinking, while his chance of escape has been growing proportionately.

PROBLEMS OF CROSSING THE ROAD

From The London Observer

Visitors to Paris will in future be well advised to be careful in crossing the street. It is not that they have not always needed that advice, but now they will not only have the risk of being run over, but also that of being run over against the rules. The old legend that in Paris you were prosecuted for being in the way will, in fact, be true—at least, under certain circumstances. If you cross at a place where there is an "agent" and he has held up his white truncheon to stop the traffic, and you are then run over, you will have nothing to pay for crossing elsewhere than at a marked and licensed crossing place, but only if your line is at right angles to that of the road. If you cross diagonally, you will not only be run over but run in, and that even if you are not run over. You will also be run in if you try to cut across any place where two or more roads meet, instead of working your way around the edge of it and crossing each road separately—so that I suppose nobody will ever be able again to visit the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at the Arc de Triomphe.

You will equally be in the wrong if you stand on the road to wait for a tram instead of on the pavement. On the other hand, you score one against a taxi if, having observed this rule, you are knocked down by it during your dash for the tram when it has arrived.

All these rules are included in those which an important traffic committee, with the prefect of police in the chair, has passed. So be careful.

NEW LIGHT ON OLD IRELAND

To the Editor:—This year my usual little bit of shamrock, sent by a cousin who lives in County Cork, came beautifully pressed and spread out like a piece of seaweed. My cousin says:

"Just a line to send you a bit of shamrock for St. Patrick's Day, but now we are not allowed to send a particle of Irish soil to America. The plants have to be washed."

CIVIC TAXATION EXEMPTION

To the Editor—As Mr. Dean says the figures in his letter of the 15th inst. are irrifutable, may I beg space to again deal with it. In the first place, I did not question the accuracy of the calculations, but showed how misleading were the assumptions upon which these were based. Taking $1,000 as land value in the respective cases of property values of $9,000 and $3,000. Mr. Dean calculates thereon. How worthless and misleading this assumption is may be seen from the average ratio of land value to improvement value in actual assessments on the assessment roll for the City of Victoria. Taking from the roll as used in 1927 ten properties giving an average improvement value of $3,465, the land values show an average of $2,145. Another set of ten averaging improvement value of $9,150, the land values average $3,660. These valuations are not "assumptions" as are the cases in Mr. Dean's "examples," but an average of typical assessments in actual operation. The improvement values being kept as near as possible to those taken by Mr. Dean: $9,000 and $3,000. This should prove beyond all question that his so-called "examples" are worthless and misleading rubbish.

There is no occasion to follow Mr. Dean into the matter of assessments of years back; it is just dust and noise he is raising to distract attention from the outward predicament in which he has placed himself. As Mr. Dean well knows it was not the system of taxation but land booming and extravagant borrowing that brought on the present misfortunes. When the orgy of municipal extravagance had reached its end there remained nothing for the workers but to pack out as best they could leaving those who remained to carry the burden of their foolishness. Revertions take place under any system of taxation, more especially after a land boom. In New Zealand, where almost fifty per cent of the counties exempt improvements, it is almost unknown. The troubles Mr. Dean mentions in the City of Victoria are not half a problem compared to what the Colony of Victoria had to face on the collapse of the land boom in Melbourne during the nineties of last century, when property owners could pay neither taxes nor anything else and every bank in the state was broken. There was no "single tax" to be conveniently blamed, but men did blame certain silk-hatted, frock-coated gentlemen who bought and cut land into lots and sold it to other frock-coated gentlemen who did not need it for immediate use but to sell to others who did need it for such purpose.

I notice that not withstanding Mr. Dean's gloomy prognostications the owners of improved property are not rushing to get back to the old system: most of the noise being made by holders of unimproved land, and the average citizen has learned to size up the value of "land holding" as a function in relation to the community.

TAXING SPECULATORS

To the Editor—When introducing, in emasculated form, the Natural Resources Tax Bill, Premier MacLean explained that he had consulted the interests concerned. This is about the equivalent of asking the wolf to forego a half-inch of the lamb's tail. It is safe to predict that very little revenue will reach the treasury as a result of this measure. For what occult reason could it have been cluttered up with income taxation and the involved and nebulous jargon about depletion allowances till even the astute House leader of the great Conservative party confessed that he was unable to understand it? Why did not the Government stick to the straightforward and honest proposition of collecting a percentage of the net profits of speculators in natural resources? If the Premier expected to placate his political opponents by the change he was disappointed, as the entire Tory party and Mr. McCreery voted solidly against it. There was a great principle involved in the measure as originally introduced. All other taxation, with the exception of that on land values, is confiscatory in its nature; this tax introduced the principle of a charge for value received, which, in essence, is not a tax at all, but the payment, in part, of a just debt. It was therefore a foregone conclusion that the vampire classes would be a unit against it. Why then consult them? Are farmers consulted or their advice complied with when their interests are involved? With your kind permission, Mr. Editor, I shall deal with this in another letter.

To illustrate how natural resources in timber increase in value, here is a clipping from an official report on the subject in the United States: "In the Southern pine region prices had risen from a dollar or two an acre to $60. For other regions one of three specific tracts had risen from $24,000 to $153,000, another from $10,000 to $124,000, and a third from $23,000 to $5,200,000." The same process is going on in British Columbia and not a dollar of it is due to anything in the way of development the holders of timber have done. It is an absolutely unearned value to which everybody in the Province has an equal right. But when the Government proposes to take a thin and attenuated sharing of the people's own property, for the benefit of the people, Mr. Pooley frankly and bluntly declares that it shall not be done if he can help it. The Government may be shy of the term "unearned increment," but Mr. Pooley is not. With him, and apparently his whole party, it is the sacred ox. All taxes must be earned in the sweat of the brow. Let the electors of Esquimalt put that in their pipes and smoke it. At the late Captain Bunsby might have said: "If they like that sort of thing, that's the sort o' thing they like."

The Hon. T. D. Pattullo "spoke right out in meeting" the session before last and told Mr. Pooley that when his party was in power they gave away two-thirds of the available timber of the Province for nothing! People are mostly inclined to take the statements of politicians with a grain of salt; but there are the best of grounds for believing that he spoke the sober truth, and as far as appears no denial was even attempted. Mr. McCreery is more subtle than Mr. Pooley. He will not say whether he understands the question or not. He will not twist his brains giving reasons or arguments; he takes the safe and sure course with the unthinking crowd of damning the whole thing as freak legislation. Mr. McCreery seems to be a fairly good judge of human nature. To ridicule and call names is easier, and often much more effective than to resort to logic, especially when there is little or no logic on the side you take.

One would have expected Col. Peck to have taken the right view of this question. He was once an advocate of taxing the unearned increment, and professes to believe in the principle still, yet he votes against it at every opportunity—gives the law to the North and the nigger to the South.

Mr. Davie also gives the principle lip service in his speeches to his constituents; but who cares for principle when the party whip cracks? An outstanding quality of party government seems to be to make men voting machines.

The situation appears to be this: A Conservative (?) Government allowed a colossal plundering of the public property to take place. About seventy per cent of this property is now in the hands of foreigners. The bulk of it is only leased, and at a nominal rental. There is no constitutional bar to the Government of the day enacting whatever remedial legislation, imposing regulations or increasing rental or taxes it sees fit: yet there seems to exist some occult, sinister influence, more powerful than all the electors of the Province put together, determined to thwart the people in the management and enjoyment of their own property.

Nanaimo Basketball Team Beat Vancouver

Nanaimo, March 29.—Nanaimo Intermediate Senior "B" basketball team defeated Vancouver Excelsiors last night, 28-22, for the coast championship, and will next week play Revelstoke for the Provincial championship. Nanaimo were behind at half-time, the score being 19-10 in favor of Vancouver, but faster play in the last half than had prevailed in the first, which itself was of a whirlwind nature, cut down the home team's long passes, and with shorter throws and faster footwork they gradually caught and passed the lighter team.

Every seat in the gymnasium was occupied, and when the score was tied pandemonium broke loose, increasing in volume as the locals took the lead and won. Bradshaw, Nanaimo, scored 16 points, and Westwood, Vancouver, was high for his team with 10 points.

C.P.R. EARNINGS

Montreal, March 29.—Net earnings of the C.P.R. for the months of January and February, 1928, were $4,481,094, an increase of $1,002,661, over the corresponding two months of 1927.

Gross revenue for the two months this year was $30,293,287, an increase of $2,490,415 over the 1927 figures which were $27,802,871.

Judge Lindsey got $6,500 for taking the affirmative in a debate about companionate marriage in New York the other night. Josephine Haldeman-Julius, companionately married, recently signed a vaudeville contract calling for $650 a week. Great thing, this companionate marriage!

Jealousy is at the bottom of half the marital warfare in the world, says an Eastern professor. Trumps in a bridge game supply the rest of the trouble.

Stomach Troubles Are Due to Acidity

Tells of Pleasant Home Treatment to Bring Swift Relief

So-called Stomach Troubles—indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, sourness, etc., are, in probably nine cases out of ten, evidence of "too much acid in the stomach" souring the food, causing the formation of gas and starting acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes a full, oppressive burning feeling known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining. Get rid of Gas and Acidity, and you get rid of Indigestion.

To stop or prevent the sourness and gas, to neutralize the stomach acids and keep the stomach sweet and free from Indigestion, a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia should be taken in a little water after eating or whenever gas, sourness, pain or acidity is felt. This quickly sweetens the stomach, neutralizes the acidity, stops the pain and is harmless and inexpensive to use.

Bisurated Magnesia, powder or tablets only, can be obtained from any drug store and its daily use keeps the stomach in fine condition, enabling it to do its work without the aid of artificial digestants. (Advt.)

BELGIUM MAY END BURIALS

Brussels, March 29.—Belgium, which has the greatest population to the square mile of any European country, 658, compared with 391 for Great Britain, 348 for Germany and 187 for France, may discard the custom of burying the dead and adopt compulsory cremation, if a campaign started in Antwerp and spreading to other Belgian cities proves successful.

It is pointed out that, because of the smallness of the country and its overpopulation, cemeteries take up enormous areas of valuable land.

Moreover, under the present system many premature burials occur, since frequently no doctor is called to certify to death, village priests being empowered to sign the certificate. To-day when a Belgian dies, leaving a wish to be cremated, the body must be sent to Paris. This is a costly procedure, since a tax must be paid to every commune through which the body passes.

OLD EASY DAYS GONE FOR BRITISH TRADE

London, March 29.—A complete circle of the globe for the investigation of world markets is being made by J. Boswell Brown, joint managing director of Wolsey Limited, Leicester, who has just arrived in South Africa by the Ss. Windsor Castle with Mrs. Brown. The tour includes Australia, New Zealand, Canada, the United States and South America, and will probably be followed by a journey across the Continent of Europe.

"The sooner Great Britain takes a leaf out of the book of her old merchant adventurer," says Mr. Boswell Brown in an interview, "the better for the export figures which are so vital to her commercial existence.

"I am going round the world because my firm is alive to the need for direct contact with our agents, representatives, and customers abroad. The old type of regular, easily obtained business no longer exists to-day. Increased exports can only be obtained by very close concentration upon the requirements of each individual market.

"All over the world local business conditions are undergoing rapid changes due to tariffs, the increased potentiality of locally produced merchandise, and varying economic conditions. We realize that it is only by a close study of these factors on the spot that Great Britain can hope to compete with foreign manufacturers."

Senators Debate St. Lawrence Plan

Ottawa, March 29.—Hon. George Lynch-Staunton, Conservative, Hamilton, resumed the discussion of the St. Lawrence Waterways project in the Senate yesterday. He said Canada had sovereign rights over the navigation of the St. Lawrence and he trusted that for all time this country would retain those rights.

In the course of his address, Senator Lynch-Staunton asked: "Is it not a question of prudence, is it not a question of commonsense and good judgment, to hold what we have and not allow ourselves to be lorded over in any part of the Dominion by any foreign nation?"

He declared that as several states of the American Union had control over the lands on boundary waters, and not the Government of the United States, any convention or treaty between the Governments of Canada and the United States would be "no protection to Canada as the United States Government could not enforce it." He instanced the example of the Chicago water diversion.

ASTRONOMER FINDS SPLIT STAR AMONG HEAVENLY BODIES

Johannesburg, March 29.—A split star has been discovered by the Union Observatory here.

Recently a Union astronomer, Dr. Wood, received a message from Dr. Bernard Dawson of La Plata Observatory in Argentina, reporting the star Nova Pictoris was looking so strange and nebulous he was unable properly to study it with his small telescope. He asked the Union Observatory to make an investigation with its 26½-inch instrument. The Union Observatory discovered Nova Pictoris was split in two.

The star is now being studied closely, as it may afford important information in connection with the composition of matter and the structure of the universe.

CATHEDRAL GUILD BAZAAR SUCCESS

Yesterday's Sale Netted $700; Also Gifts of $205 For Building Fund

The Memorial Hall was transformed into a bower of color yesterday afternoon when the Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral held their annual dollar bazaar. Nothing was priced higher than a dollar, and the large throng of patrons testified to the popularity of the event, the prettily-decorated stalls being quickly denuded of their wares. A total of $700 was realized from the bazaar, and in addition the Guild received a donation of $200 for the cathedral building fund from a friend, and $5 collected by a schoolboy.

Mrs. Duncan Ross, president of the Guild, acted as general convener, and Mrs. W. A. Galliher had charge of the tea tickets and the general receipts. Tea was served at tables prettily decorated in daffodils and wild lilies, Mrs. Grant, the convener, being assisted by a bevy of willing workers.

At the baby stall where Mrs. Paterson, Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Jenns and Mrs. Pillar, sold fascinating woollies and other clothes for little tots, plum blossoms, daffodils and ferns were used in decoration. Violets and daffodils gave a Spring-like air to the fifty-cent stall in charge of Mrs. Hodgkinson and Mrs. Dwyer, and at the seventy-five cent stall in charge of Mrs. B. Chrow, Mrs. Iverson and Mrs. Slater, daffodils were again in evidence.

Mrs. C. S. Quainton, Mrs. J. H. Hinton and Mrs. Aldridge sold linen at their stall in violet and white; a blue and gold setting lent a gay background to the apron stall under the direction of Mrs. Topp, Mrs. Kidd, Mrs. Norris, and Mrs. Mercer. Dainty novelties found ready purchasers at the pretty stall in charge of Mrs. Dallain, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Spikesley, while superfluities were readily disposed of at the scarlet and white booth arranged by the Men's Guild under the direction of Messrs. Finlinson, Lemon and Prior.

Delicious home cooking was sold by Mesdames Bissell, Miles, Robinson, Dixon, Landry and Moss, and at their pretty stall Mrs. L. Thomas and Miss Dallain readily disposed of home made candies. The plant-and-flower stall was one of the most popular of the afternoon, and shrubs, cut flowers and bedding-out plants were sold by Mrs. Finmore, Miss Lettice and Mrs. Hadfield. Gay posies were sold by Mrs. Mortimer Appleby and Mrs. Thaw at their pretty booth, and in the centre of the room was a crescent-shaped tulip bed, each flower hiding at the base of its stem a surprise packet, and the tulip bed itself composed of moss. Mrs. Oliver, Miss Schwartz and Miss Wright were at this kiosk.

Eagles' Auxiliary—The Ladies' Auxiliary to the F.O.E. Aerie No. 12 have made plans for a rummage sale to be held shortly after Easter, and a dance in the latter part of April, details of which will be announced later. After the business meeting on Tuesday an enjoyable social evening was held, followed by refreshments. President Sister A. Jones was in the chair.

PRINTING BUREAU BALL TO ATTRACT LARGE ATTENDANCE

Heavy sales of tickets for the ball which will be given in the new Government Printing Bureau next Monday evening as a "home warming" for these premises indicate that the affair will be largely attended. Tickets for the dance are being handled by Walter Wilson of the Government bindery and J. L. Colbert of the forest branch of the Lands Department. The large composing room of the new printing bureau, with its hardwood floor, is being transformed for the occasion into a handsome ballroom where Charles F. Banfield, King's Printer, and his staff, will act as joint hosts with provincial civil servants.

A New Slip

Did you know that a fifteen-cent envelope of Diamond Dyes will duplicate any delicate tint that may be the vogue in dainty underwear? Keep your oldest lingerie, stockings too, in the shade of the hour. It's easy if you only use a true dye. Don't streak your nice things with synthetic tints.

Dye or tint anything: dresses, or drapes. You can work wonders with a few, inexpensive Diamond Dyes (true dyes). New colors right over the old. Any kind of material.

Are You One of Those Women?

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Certain women are sufficiently interesting in appearance to cause people to look twice. The secret is an outstanding smartness.

Always such a person appears perfectly groomed but the methods of acquiring this stamp are quiet and unobtrusive.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

Here is one of the important ways: Use a powder that blends with your skin so smoothly that it looks a part of you. I have found this powder in France. Formerly it was made for my personal use only. Now you can buy it at your own toilet counter. It comes in a square box. Ask for Edna Wallace Hopper's Heavy Face Powder.

For certain skins which do not require as clinging a type I have what I call my Light Face Powder, which comes in a round box at a lower price.

Both types in Flesh, Brunette, White. (Advt.)

The "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE

Author of "The Benson Murder Case"

"And then, there's the man who took her out last night," pursued Heath. "Nobody seems to know his name—he must've been one of those discreet, careful old boys. I thought at first he might have been Cleaver, but the descriptions don't tally. . . . And by the way, sir, here's a funny thing: when he left Odell last night he took the taxi down to the Stuyvesant Club, and got out there."

Markham nodded. "I know all about that, Sergeant. And I know who the man was; and it wasn't Cleaver."

Vance was chuckling.

"The Stuyvesant Club seems to be well in the forefront of this case," he said. "I do hope it doesn't suffer the sad fate of the Knickerbocker Athletic."*

Heath was intent on the main issue.

"Who was the man, Mr. Markham?"

Markham hesitated, as if pondering the advisability of taking the other into his confidence. Then he said: "I'll tell you his name, but in strict confidence. The man was Kenneth Spotswoode."

He then recounted the story of his being called away from lunch, and of his failure to elicit any helpful suggestions from Spotswoode. He also informed Heath of his verification of the man's statements regarding his movements after meeting Judge Redfern at the club.

"And," added Markham, "since he obviously left the girl before she was murdered, there's no necessity to bother him. In fact, I gave him my word I'd keep him out of it for his family's sake."

"If you're satisfied, sir, I am." Heath closed his notebook and put it away. "There's just one other little thing. Odell used to live on 110th Street, and Emery dug up her former landlady and learned that this fancy guy the maid told us about used to call on her regularly."

"That reminds me, Sergeant." Markham picked up the memorandum he had made during Inspector Brenner's phone call. "Here's some data the professor gave me about the forcing of the jewel-case."

Heath studied the paper with considerable eagerness. "Just as I thought!" He nodded his head with satisfaction. "Clear-cut professional job by somebody who's been in the line of work before."

Vance roused himself.

"Still, if such is the case," he said, "why did this experienced burglar first use the insufficient poker? And why did he overlook the living-room clothes press?"

"I'll find that all out, Mr. Vance, when I get my hands on him," asserted Heath, with a hard look in his eyes. "And the guy I want to have a nice, quiet little chat with is the one with the pleated silk shirt and the chamois gloves."

"For myself, I have no yearning whatever to hold converse with him. Somehow, I can't just picture a professional looter trying to rend a steel box with a cast-iron poker."

"Forget the poker," Heath advised gruffly. "He jimmied the box with a steel chisel; and that same chisel was used last Summer in another burglary on Park Avenue. What about that?"

"Ah! That's what torments me, Sergeant. If it wasn't for that disturbin' fact, d' ye see, I'd be lightsome this afternoon, inviting my soul over a dish of tea at Claremont."

Detective Bellamy was announced, and Heath sprang to his feet.

"That'll mean news about those finger-prints," he prophesied hopefully.

Bellamy entered unemotionally, and walked up to the district attorney's desk.

"Cap'n Dubois sent me over," he said. "He thought you'd want the report on those Odell prints." He reached into his pocket and drew out a small, flat folder which, at a sign from Markham, he handed to Heath. "We identified 'em. Both made by the same hand, like Cap'n Dubois said; and that hand belongs to Tony Skeel."

"'Dude' Skeel, eh?" The sergeant's tone was vibrant with suppressed excitement. "Say, Mr. Markham, that gets us somewhere. Skeel's an ex-convict and an artist in his line."

He opened the folder and took out an oblong card and a sheet of blue paper containing eight or ten lines of typewriting. He studied the card, gave a satisfied grunt, and handed it to Markham.

Vance and I stepped up and looked at it. At the top was the familiar rogues' gallery photograph showing the full face and profile of a regular-featured youth with thick hair and a square chin. His eyes were wide-set and pale, and he wore a small, evenly trimmed mustache with waxed, needle-point ends.

Below the double photograph was a brief tabulated description of its sitter, giving his name, aliases, residence and Bertillon measurements, and designating the character of his illegal profession. Underneath were ten little squares arranged in two rows, each containing a finger-print impression made in black ink—the upper row being the impressions of the right hand, the lower row those of the left.

"So that's the arbiter elegantiarum who introduced the silk shirt for full-dress wear! My word!" Vance regarded the identification card satirically. "I wish he'd start a craze for gaiters with dinner jackets—these New York theatres are frightfully drafty in Winter."

Heath put the card back in the folder, and glanced over the typewritten paper that had accompanied it.

"He's our man, and no mistake, Mr. Markham. Listen to this: 'Tony (Dude) Skeel. Two years Elmira Reformatory, 1902 to 1904. One year in the Baltimore County jail for petit larceny, 1906. Three years in San Quentin for assault and robbery, 1908 to 1911. Arrested Chicago for house-breaking, 1912; case dismissed. Arrested and tried for burglary in Albany, 1913; no conviction. Served two years and eight months in Sing Sing for house-breaking and burglary, 1914 to 1916.'" He folded the paper and put it, with the card, into his breast pocket. "Sweet little record."

"That dope what you wanted?" asked the imperturbable Bellamy.

"I'll say!" Heath was almost jovial.

Bellamy lingered expectantly with one eye on the district attorney; and Markham, as if suddenly remembering something, took out a box of cigars and held it out.

"Much obliged, sir," said Bellamy, helping himself to two, and putting them into his waistcoast pocket with great care, he went out.

"I'll use your phone now, if you don't mind, Mr. Markham," said Heath.

He called the homicide bureau.

"Look up Tony Skeel—Dude Skeel—pronto, and bring him in as soon as you find him," were his orders to Snitkin. "Get his address from the files, and take Burke and Emery with you. If he's hopped it, send out a general alarm and have him picked up—some of the boy'll have a line on him. Lock him up without booking him, see? . . . And listen. Search his room for burglar tools: he probably won't have any laying around, but I specially want a one-and-three-eighths-inch chisel with a nick in the blade. . . . I'll be at headquarters in half an hour."

*Vance was here referring to the famous Molineux case, which, in 1898, sounded the death-knell of the old Knickerbocker Athletic Club, at Madison Avenue and 45th Street. But it was commercialism that ended the Stuyvesant's career. This club, which stood on the north side of Madison Square, was razed a few years later to make room for a skyscraper.

House Wedding Pretty Function

A pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 1052 Pendergast Street, when the Rev. A. De B. Owen united in marriage Frances Ellen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lane, and Mr. Alexander Walker, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walker, of Basil Avenue. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a French model gown of mauve georgette with crystal beads and rosebuds. She wore a bandeau of rhinestones and orange blossoms in her hair, and a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and freesias completed the bridal attire.

Miss Edna Ashton, maid of honor, and Miss Kay Davies, bridesmaid, were gowned alike in blue taffeta in bouffant style and wore bandeaux of silver leaves and forget-me-nots. Their bouquets were composed of pink carnations and maiden-hair ferns. Little Miss Audrey Stanat, niece of the bride, made a very pretty flower girl in pink crepe-de-chine and ecru lace, carrying a blue basket filled with Easter lilies. The groom was supported by Mr. R. McCann.

The reception rooms were tastefully decorated with Spring flowers, and the ceremony was performed beneath an arch of daffodils, Easter lilies and Oregon grape. Following the ceremony the young couple were assisted in receiving their many guests by the bride's mother, gowned in black Canton crepe, and Mrs. Walker, mother of the groom, gowned in black satin.

The table was artistically decorated, a three-tier wedding cake holding the place of honor. Those who assisted in serving the refreshments were Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. Dawes, Mrs. Stanat and the Misses Dorothy Philips, Elsie Dunn, Doris Maves and Edna Yeadon.

Among the handsome gifts was a pair of blankets from the staff of the credit office of David Spencer Ltd., of which the bride was a member.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Walker will reside in the city.

Strawberry Vale W.I.—The Strawberry Vale Women's Institute will hold their regular monthly meeting in the hall on Wilkinson Road on Tuesday, April 3, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. D. Stark will demonstrate basket weaving and the directors ask for a good attendance of members and friends.

"PARSIFAL" RECITAL DATE IS CHANGED

In order not to conflict with the recital to be given by Mark Hambourg on Wednesday evening next, the Ladies' Musical Club, with the kind consent of Mrs. J. Hebden Gillespie, have changed the date of her lecture-recital on Wagner's beautiful opera, "Parsifal," to Tuesday, April 3, in the Empress Hotel ballroom. Owing to the length of the programme, which will include some very beautiful Orthophonic records of the opera, the recital will commence promptly at 8 o'clock.

CHILDREN HAVE TO LEARN TO SPEAK THE TRUTH

In answer to Mrs. W.A.D.:

Children naturally tell things which to adult minds are untrue. They do this because of lively imaginations; because their experiences are so limited that they do not know or recognize the truth; to escape punishments; to make themselves out superior. One has to first decide what type of lying your child indulges in.

It is natural for children to "pervert" the truth. If you say to the child: "Did you tell your aunt that I would be over this afternoon?", and the child says "Yes," and later you learn that she has never been near her aunt, you can call that an untruth. But it is quite possible that the child rehearsed her speech so often in her own mind that she actually thought she had said it. When you ask a child a question sharply and they discern that there is some reason why they should make a certain answer, invariably they will make the answer they think you want to hear, rather than the right one. You encourage falsehoods by sharp and tactless questions. A better way is to ask the child to tell you what happened and be not too particular that each detail shall be exact.

When children ask permission to do things say "yes" whenever possible. Sometimes yearnings are so irresistible that a child disobeys and then, fearful of punishment, lies about it. The parent might have avoided that situation by saying "yes" in the first place. If a child is spanked or punished for falsehoods, he will be all the more cunning in constructing lies that will get him by.

The most serious lies are those in which a child lies to evade punishment, because they are cowardly lies. Almost any child can be expected to color a tale in a way that makes it deviate somewhat from the truth; he can be expected to shield his friends from trouble and consider it honorable and loyal; he can be expected to make strange answers to sharp, angry questions, out of sheer fright. But he must be guarded from taking any satisfaction whatever in escaping punishments by lies. The satisfaction must come from telling the truth. Admit to the child that it is always harder to tell the truth than it is to lie. It takes more courage; it means that a child is grown-up, because father and mother get a real satisfaction from telling the truth. All of these are potent arguments with children, especially if they are backed up by a good example at home.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES—'Stoo Bad, Horace! —By MARTIN

"The carpet truly is a good on", History quotes Lady Sussex, one of Van Dyck's sitters, as saying. ". . if i can have that and the other for forty pounde or a littell more i wouldc by them. "The carpet truly is a good one . . . . . if I can have that and the other for forty pounds or a little more I would buy them. If the background is very dull and the pattern not of very pleasing colour, I am afraid they will be too dull to suit my hangings and chairs."

RACING'S GREATEST GAMBLE TO-MORROW

New Stands Built To Accommodate Crowd At Grand National

Many Americans Cable and Telephone Their Orders for Seats in Order to See Billy Barton and Burgoright, American-bred Horses, Compete in Gruelling Contest Which Was Started Ninety-one Years Ago by a Publican; Every Horse Entered Has Chance to Win

Liverpool, March 29.—Hope spelled with capitals might be the middle name of several hundred Americans who came 3,000 miles to see the Yankee steeplechaser, Billy Barton, perform to-morrow in what is unquestionably the world's biggest gamble in racing, the Grand National Steeplechase.

Billy Barton, owned by Howard Bruce, of Baltimore, and Burgoright, owned by Ben L. Behr, of Chicago, are the American-bred horses entered in the most gruelling contest for horseflesh ever conceived by man.

More than 300 reserved seats have been added to the Aintree grandstand on account of the rush from the United States sportsmen, who began clamoring for seats weeks ago. Most of these reservations were made by cable and some by transatlantic telephone.

PUBLICAN STARTED IT

The race, which this year is attracting large crowds, had a novel beginning. It was conceived by a racing enthusiast and publican, Jack Lynn, ninety-one years ago. He hit upon the idea of a long distance struggle with the view of attracting trade to his bar in the Waterloo Hotel at Aintree, which had been in the doldrums for years. The scheme worked, the race being a crowd winner from the beginning. Lynn died a very rich man because of this.

Twice in the last five years the Grand National has been won by an American-owned horse, but never has it been won by a horse bred and owned in America. Sergeant Murphy, owned by Stephen Sandford of Amsterdam, N.Y., won in 1923, and Jack Horner, owned by A. C. Schwartz, of New York, won in 1926. These men with another compatriot, Harold Fowler, are competing this year with horses bought abroad.

ALL HORSES HAVE CHANCE

Both Billy Barton and Burgoright are so well known in the United States that their entry attracted attention from the start. Neither Billy Barton nor Burgoright are favorites in the betting and the trainer of the Baltimore entry said rather pessimistically that the horse was not acclimatized.

Every horse in the Grand National however, has a chance. The best horse does not always win. There are thirty obstacles in the four and a half miles and in the first mile alone in the scurry and scramble of getting a good start, each horse is in imminent danger of being toppled over by the herd of indifferent jumpers whose jockeys are riding with all their might and main and with a single mind. Owing to uncertainty in racing, enthusiasts never lose hope that their favorites may win. As the history of the race records, time and again, hot favorites worth fortunes failed to even complete the course while a milk cart dobbin or a cab pony romped home with the bacon at odds which made the bookies weep.

Jordan River And Telephone Girls Win Shield Finals

Former Defeat Hillcrests 34-18 While Exchange Team Wins From Red Wings

The results of last night's basketball games played at the Y.M.C.A. were as follows:

Victoria Basketball Association Shield—Jordan River 34, Hillcrests 18.

B. C. Peets Shield, final—B.C. Telephone 26, Red Wings 14.

Exhibition—Crescent 23, College 22.

After play in the first half had been very close and exciting, the Red Wings stumbled near the close of the game and the telephone girls seized the opportunity to run in five baskets and gain a commanding lead in the final of the B. C. Peets Cup.

Both teams played hard and in the earlier stages the game promised to be a fight to the finish. About half way through the second half the Red Wings weakened, however, and the Telephones assumed the lead which they held until the final whistle. At half-time the Red Wings were leading 12-10.

Forbes refereed. The teams were:

B.C. Telephone — C. Robertson 12, I. Crawford 10, R. Robertson 4, M. Breckenridge, C. Yeamans and G. Stipe.

Red Wings—H. Smith, A. Rendle 11, K. Hill 1, S. Vickers 2, N. Smith and M. McCrae.

RIVER WIN EASILY

The Jordan River men's senior "A" had little trouble in disposing of the Hillcrests in the final of the Victoria and District Basketball Association Shield. The score was 34-18.

The first half was the better of the two session of play. Jordan River could not get going and at half-time led by only six points. In the second half the Hillcrests tried hard but were no match for the powerful Jordans. Tervo led the scorers with fifteen points.

Bob Whyte refereed and the teams were:

Jordan River—Tervo 15, McKenzie 4, Wechter 6, Boyd 9, Patt and Forbes.

Hillcrests—Wright, Squires, Darbyshire 6, Butler 8, Passmore 2, Davey 4 and Knowles.

CRESCENTS WIN

In an interesting struggle the Crescents defeated College 23-22. The game was fast and produced some good play.

SAANICH TAKE FIRST GAME FOR MACKAY SHIELD

Eliminate Navy, Last Year's Winners, in First Round of Knockout Series

Penalty in Second Half Gives Youngsters Win; Hawkes Scores For Saanich

In the opening round of the knockout competition for the "Scotty" MacKay Wednesday Soccer Shield Saanich United eliminated the Navy, last year's winners, yesterday afternoon, by a 2-1 score, at the Royal Athletic Park.

The game was spoiled by a high wind that swept the field length ways and make control of the ball impossible. Kicking with the wind in the first half Saanich had all the play while in the last period with the elements in their favor the Navy had a big edge.

Strengthened by the addition of Clarke and Rigby, former Tillicum players, the blue jackets put up a good fight but they tossed away many chances to score in the last half.

Starting the game with ten men the Navy were hard pressed but managed to keep their goal clear. Clarke soon arrived and their team was complete. Even with the wind against them the tars broke away several times but their forwards were unable to control the ball.

A SOFT GOAL

Saanich's first goal was a soft one and came shortly before half-time. Teddy Hawkes took a pot shot from outside the penalty line and Clarke made an effort to head the ball out but missed and the Navy goalie let the ball go into the net.

The second half had only been under way a short time when Saanich obtained their second goal on a penalty kick given for hands. Teddy Hawkes took the kick.

From this stage of the game until the finish the Navy were the aggressors and after twenty minutes of play Roberts scored their lone goal. Shooting from quite away out the ball took a nasty jump over Tooby's shoulder into the net.

The final whistle blew with no further scoring.

Hewison refereed and the teams were as follows:

Saanich United—Tooby, Ash, Hogarth, Barry, Love, Spellar, Brown, Stonier, Hawkes, Burns and Ralph.

Navy—Thwaites, Earnshaw, Clark, Whyte, Roberts, Gleave, Stangar, Gee, Adams, Patterson and Rigby.

Stage Basketball Games to Benefit City Playgrounds

Jordan River to Meet Normal School To-morrow Night; Girls' Teams Will Play

With the proceeds to go towards the development and improvement of playgrounds in Victoria the Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage two basketball games at the Victoria High School gymnasium to-morrow night.

The feature game of the evening will be provided when Jordon River Senior "A" champions of the Island, meet the Normal School Island Senior "B" men's champions. These two clubs met recently, and the Riverites won out by a single point after a gruelling battle. The Normal School had a safe lead at half-time, but in the final period Jordan River came back strong to win out. This game should draw a big crowd.

FEATURE GIRLS' GAME

In the second game it is expected the B.C. Telephone girls, senior "A" champions, will be pitted against either the Axioms or Red-Birds. Twice this season the exchange girls have been beaten by the Red-Birds, and they are anxious to take them on again before the season closes. The Axioms also have a fast team, and will give the senior champs a good game.

The first game will start at 8 o'clock.

Tunney May Fight In Spain Before King Next Spring

Miami Beach, Fla., March 29.—Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion, probably will accept a royal invitation to Spain in 1929 and incidentily stage an exhibition bout for King Alfonso, he announced here yesterday.

The champion said he planned to tour Europe next year, and had tentatively accepted the Spanish King's invitation to appear at the Barcelona Exposition in April, 1929.

"I have notified Marquis de Foronda, president of the exposition, that I hope to be in Europe in 1929 and attend the Barcelona Exposition at the invitation of King Alfonso," he said. "If nothing interferes with my present plans I will be pleased to box an exhibition bout there."

WINS BY A KNOCKOUT

San Francisco, March 29.—Frankie Campbell, 175, of San Francisco, stopped George Trenkle, 176½, of Los Angeles, in the fifth round of their ten-round match at National Hall here last night.

Trenkle's manager threw the towel into the ring after his protege had been knocked down twice in that round.

LEWIS A WINNER

Memphis, Tenn., March 29. — Ed. "Strangler" Lewis pinned Stanley Stasiak, challenger of his mat title, for a single fall here last night in 57 minutes 30 seconds.

Marathon Miles —By Jimmy Thompson

Johnny Miles, the long distance meteor from Sydney Mines, N.S., first blazed into the athletic world's ken when he romped home winner of the famous annual Boston Marathon in 1926. Throughout the maritimes Miles had been known as a sturdy middle distance runner, having in 1925 won the Canadian five-mile championship in twenty-six minutes and fifty-four seconds. Last year he again competed at Boston, but his feet blistered badly early in the race and he was forced to withdraw. Moving recently to Hamilton, Ontario, he has emerged from a series of trials held by the Canadian Olympic Committee as one of the team of four who will represent Canada in the marathon at the forthcoming Olympic games. Johnny is taking this honor seriously and will almost surely be found well in the van when the great race is run off at Amsterdam next Summer before the eyes of the world.

Fireworks Lacking When Charges Against Boxing Read; No One To Fight

Commission of B.C.A.A.U. Gets Plenty of Charges But No One Met Them; Local Board Officials and Boxers Charged Were All Absent; Matter Referred to Local Board for Investigation; Suspensions on April 7 if Matter Not Cleared Up Before Then

Very little interest was manifested last night in the sitting of the special commission of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union. Andy Gard, of Vancouver, and R. C. McDonald, of New Westminster, were here to convene with Leonard Tait, president of the B.C.A.A.U., and Percy Watson, of this city, and hear about the sensational charges which were promised. In the room at the Y.M.C.A. where the commission met only seven other persons gathered, three being there to present charges, another being prepared to criticize a certain promoter for his conduct of boxing here in the past, still another who thought he would peek in and see the "fireworks," while the other pair were ordinary scribes doing a night's work.

A TAME AFFAIR

It was an extremely tame affair. There were no charges that would make your hair stand on end and, when the charges were read, there was no one to either substantiate or to deny them. Officials of the local board of the B.C.A.A.U. did not turn up because they felt they had been slighted. They contended previously that the charges should first have been referred to them, instead of having been released to the parent body. They also had been given assurance that ample time would be given all men charged to clear themselves. There were no boxers present as none of them knew until the charges were read at the meeting who were under fire. Consequently when there was no one there to fight back at the charges there were no fireworks and the meeting was a flat-tire in that respect.

The commission, however, passed several resolutions which will assist in clearing the air. They first decided to refer all the charges to the Victoria branch of the B.C.A.A.U. for investigation, which in what the local branch contended should have been done in the first place. There was a feeling that the athletes in the meantime should be suspended but the commission finally decided that, in order not to work a hardship on the boxer in the event of their innocence, they be given until April 7 to clear themselves of the charges. The local branch will be asked to go through the charges, pick out the names of those charged, haul them on the carpet and then be prepared to present a finding to the commission by April 7. If the athletes are not cleared by that time they will be automatically suspended.

The commission also decided to have a stricter supervision of boxers coming here from Seattle. In future the Americans must have international permits as called for in the articles of alliance between the amateur unions of Canada and the United States.

THE NEXT MOVE

The next move in the inquiry will be up to the local branch, which must sift the charges and prepare a report. The local branch will call those who made the charges, those involved and anyone else who wishes to support the charges or deny them.

Lengthy letters were read at the meeting last night, containing many charges. The longest letter was from Frank Day, secretary of the V.I.A.A. W. J. Sheasby, professional instructor of the Canadian Scottish and the J.B. A.A., also wrote at length, while W. H. Batstone, the Duncan promoter, leveled some very pointed charges. W. H. Davies, who has promoted many bouts here in past years, also wrote asking that his case be investigated. He charged that he had been ruled out of amateur sport for promoting professional bouts, which he contended was a case similar to that of the Tillicum Athletic Club.

THOSE CHARGED

In the letters the Tillicum Athletic Club was frequently mentioned as having broken the amateur rules. In addition charges were laid against the following boxers: Danny Pastro, Art Sprunston, Len Woodley, Clarence Leask, Scotty Sinnott, A. E. Neal and Petrie. These fighters are charged with appearing on the same cards with professionals, while in several instances cheques were exhibited, purporting to have been paid to the "amateurs" for services rendered in the ring.

The commission found itself sadly handicapped in not being able to go ahead with the investigation. In justice they admitted that they could take no action against those charged, because they had a right to give their side of the case.

The commission talked over things, consulted the amateur union manuel and had a fairly pleasant time for two hours and then adjourned.

WILLIAMS'S FINE GOAL SAANICH'S VICTORY MARGIN

Suburban Team Defeats Victoria in Soccer Final For Fragments Cup

School Teams Put Up Great Struggle Which Requires Overtime

In a bitter overtime struggle between the Victoria and Saanich district school representative soccer teams at Cranmore Road yesterday afternoon, Saanich won the Fragments of France Cup by one goal, when Williams, of the Tillicum School, drove a fast shot past Andrews.

That was the only tally of the match. It came in the first period of overtime play.

In the first half the play was even with Victoria kicking against a strong wind, but doing some pretty forward work. Several times in the early stages they threatened Wilmhurst, guardian of the Saanich goal and only his smart work saved a score. Andrews, in the Victoria goal, was called upon, too, and his performance was even more brilliant than that of the young Saanich goalie. Twice he only kept his goal free by diving for the hard shots of the opposing forwards.

It was the same in the second half, both teams fighting for a score. But if anything Victoria had a slight edge in the play.

GOES OVERTIME

Without a score at the end of the game, Referee Gibbard called the players out for overtime. Again Victoria faced a gusty wind and Saanich put all it had into the few minutes of the first overtime period. Williams got his chance when Dawson of the High School passed to him on the wing and allowed the fleet right wing man to gallop up for a close shot. Andrews tried hard for the shot. He leaped to meet it but it got by him with only inches to spare.

In the second half Victoria were over-anxious and tried desperately to even up. Saanich, on the other hand, were going great guns and nothing could slow them up. A free kick from about fifteen feet out was stopped by Magee in the goal mouth. Another free kick was blocked by Andrews.

The game, from the standpoint of the spectators, was thrilling. It was the hardest-fought encounter in the series which has been gripping the soccer enthusiasts of the low schools.

Speller, Williams and Dawson were the pick of Saanich and Magee, Preston, Blackstock and Harris of Victoria.

Gibbard refereed. The teams were as follows:

Saanich — Wilmshurst, Craigflower; Campbell, High School; Sewell, High School; L. Kennedy, High School; Washington, Cloverdale; Speller, Mackenzie; S. Kennedy, Cloverdale; Dawson, High School; Fieldhouse, Mackenzie; Williams, Tillicum; Morgan, Cloverdale.

Victoria—Andrews, Margaret Jenkins; Buckley, Oaklands; Blackstock, Oaklands; Preston, South Park; Magee, South Park; Wallace, Margaret Jenkins; Cave, Margaret Jenkins; Payne, Margaret Jenkins; Sheret, South Park; Harris, Margaret Jenkins and Hyne, Margaret Jenkins.

Roller Hockey Teams Invited To Play In Seattle

An invitation was received this morning from the Ballard Commercial Club of Seattle for the Victoria Roller Hockey League to send two teams to Seattle to compete against the Ballard clubs during the Easter holiday.

The teams requested are a Victoria representative senior team and the V.I.A.A. intermediate champions.

If sufficient automobiles can be secured the teams will take the ferry from Sidney to Anacortes on April 8 and motor to Seattle.

Winnipeg Goes Wild Over Varsity's Win In Allan Cup Series

Seventh Time Since 1908 That Winnipeg Team Has Won Amateur Hockey Championship; Students Hold Up Traffic in Manitoba Capital for Several Hours on Learning of Team's Victory Over the Montreal Vics; Big Reception Planned; McKenzie's Goal Decides Issue

Winnipeg, March 29.—Jubilant over the victory of University of Manitoba in the Dominion Amateur Hockey finals, Winnipeg's sporting fraternity to-day were organizing a mammoth reception for the team which is bringing the Allan Cup to the Manitoba capital for the first time in eight years. The team will arrive here Friday night.

While the game was in progress at Ottawa last night thousands of hockey fans crowded in front of the newspaper offices' bulletin boards, cheering wildly as play by play accounts of the game were megaphoned.

The flash which recorded the students' victory was a signal for a wild demonstration such as Winnipeg has not witnessed since the Falcons captured the coveted trophy back in 1920.

Howling throng of students and other hockey fans swept along the principal streets, holding up traffic for several hours.

Winnipeg, March 29.—Last night's victory of Manitoba Varsity in winning the Allan Cup at Ottawa, marks the seventh time, since its inauguration in 1908 that a Winnipeg team has held the coveted trophy.

The Victorias of Winnipeg were the Dominion champions in 1910-11 and again in 1911-12. In 1912-13 another Winnipeg team captured it, while in 1914-15 Winnipeg Monarchs held it, and in 1915-16 the 61st Battalion took possession of it. Then until 1920 it remained in the East, Winnipeg Falcons bringing it back West in that year.

Ottawa, March 29.—The Allan Cup, emblematic of the Senior Amateur Hockey championship of Canada, travels West along with the Memorial Cup, which occupies a similar pedestal in the junior series. The students of the University of Manitoba won the third and deciding game against the Victorias of Montreal here last night by a score of 1-0, thereby becoming senior champions. In its report of the game, The Citizen says:

"Manitoba won by a small margin, but Victorias might just as well have finished in front as the play was very even from start to finish with penalties to Stewart Shearer playing havoc with Victorias' chances of winning in the last period when they were one goal down.

"Gordon Mackenzie was the fair-haired right wing player who broke up the struggle last night and won the cup for the Varsity team. Mackenzie did not play in the second game of the series due to slight injuries from the previous contest. Last night he felt good enough to substitute for St. John on the right wing, and it was in the second period that he blasted a low, fast shot through Cockburn's skates for the only tally, after sixteen minutes of play in this session. The shot was made from near the boards and was in the net before the fans realized what had happened. It was a good goal and well earned, on the showing of the collegians in the final game.

COSTLY PENALTIES

"Victorias made a gallant bid for the tieing marker, but penalties to their defence man, Shearer, in the last period, ruined whatever chances they had of winning. The Montrealers attacked from the first face-off in the last twenty minutes and had Manitoba on the run until Shearer got a two-minute penalty for cross-checking. Later he was penalized again. Varsity took advantage of the break to press play into Victorias' territory and retain their slim lead."

FIRST PERIOD

On Blair's pass to Williamson, the latter gave the Montreal goalie a ripping shot to handle right from the opening face-off. The first three Montreal charges got up no farther than the West defence. McVey rifled over a hard one and then Thompson popped one at long range for the first East shot. The students had all the play for the initial five minutes, pouring rubber on Cockburn, while they back-checked the Montreal crew "into the ground." McVey, Watson and Blair rifled hard ones on the East's citadel. Varsity relief wings were injected into the game after eight minutes of one-sided but fast battling. McKenzie showed no sign of the back strain he suffered in Saturday's tussle. On his pass McVey went right in for a nice try. The West was using a reckless passing combination that gained them many shots. Slater's long shot made the western rooters gasp by its closeness. Then McKenzie, and later Watson, drew penalties. Vics tossed everything on the offensive, but the bottling of Manitoba's backs held them scoreless.

SECOND PERIOD

The Montrealers sailed into feverish action right from the start of the middle frame. Thompson let a long one fly, Abbott shot back the rebound and Shearer and Slater followed through with another pair of long range tries. However, the Maroons' defence had to lay back when Shearer was chased for slashing. McVey let one of his characteristic blistering drives go, and St. John was in for another try with the bounding puck. McVey cracked the East rearguards again for a dangerous looking shot. In contrast to the start of the first session the Vics had a decided edge on the play in the first ten minutes of this period. Blair and Abbott had a slugging affray and both drew minors.

Grant joined them in the penance and four remaining Montreal men had a tight fight holding the students back. Valoris's crossfire shot was only inches out after a melee in front of the Varsity cage. St. John was literally burning up the ice with his lightning flashes and dashes goalward, but he was too light to barge past the Montreal defence.

THIRD PERIOD

The Vics pushed hard with the inauguration of the final stanza, and early shots bounced off Puttee on the sticks of Shearer, Thompson and then Abbott. Abbott's low, long shot between McVey's legs was a close call for Puttee. The Vics continued strongest on the offensive until Shearer left them weakened by drawing a minor for slashing. Blair missed a made-to-order opening when he shot very weakly on Watson's pass close in.

St. John rushed right through, but there was no teammate in for his pass out. Soon after returning to the game Shearer was chased again, this time for a five-minute term, for chopping McVey seriously when the westerner raced in menacingly. Watson was just a trifle wide of the mark on a stiff drive, after Blair passed to him in front of the Montreal net. Puttee craftily fell to the ice to accept the tricky roller Abbott sent his way.

The closing five minutes found the East playing four-man rushes, but the Manitoba defence was too crafty, and so the Allan Cup journeyed westward.

The teams were as follows:

Manitoba		Montreal
Puttee	Goal	Cockburn
McVey	Defence	Carlin
Williamson	Defence	Shearer
Blair	Centre	Abbott
St. John	Wing	Slater
Watson	Wing	Thompson
Collins	Sub	Grant
McKenzie	Sub	Valoris

Referee—Burgoine, Toronto.

With the Bowlers

Kansas City, March 29.—Drawing a wide open split in the tenth frame of his last game, George Peplinski of Erie, Pa., was deprived of a chance to grasp the leadership in the singles event at the American Bowling Congress yesterday. He rolled games of 248-230-218, giving him 696 and a grip on third place.

Henry Schmidt of Chicago holds the lead in the singles with 702. Bork, another Chicagoan, is second with 697.

Two other bowlers made strong bids for the individual championship. Walter Smith of Minnesapolis had 691 and Lawrence Winking of Quincy, Ill., 690. Smith's score put him in fifth place while Winking took sixth.

The high score in the doubles in yesterday's competition was made by G. Wiehl and F. Nash of Coffeyville, Kansas. Nash, a left hander, rolled 661 and Wiehl 589 for a team score of 1,250 which failed to get them in the first ten.

Frank Snyder and Mike Flick of Erie, Pa., who rolled 1,317 to win the A.B.C. doubles championship last year, could not hit their stride in this event yesterday, scoring only 1,219, not high enough to disturb the leaders. Snyder, however, had a score of 1,916 for all events, placing him fourth.

Centrefield Gate Is Proving a Good Entry For Young Ball Stars

Two Boys Succeeded There Last Year and Several Others Will Burst Into Spotlight Through Middle Section of Outfield This Season; Connie Mack Said to Be Displeased With His Athletics; Urban Faber Is Going Good; Other News From the Training Camps

New York, March 29.—The centrefield gate is proving a good entry way for young baseball players in the major leagues.

Fred Schulte, bought by the St. Louis Browns, at a reported price of $100,000, and Lloyd Waner, who cost the Pittsburgh Pirates only a small amount for car fare, were the sensational youngsters of the American and National Leagues last year.

Schulte was incapacitated when he came out second best in an encounter with an outfield wall, but in the sixty games he played, he demonstrated that he was worth whatever price was paid for him.

The junior Waner went through the season with an amazing clip, batting .355, leading the league in number of one base hits and tying with Rogers Hornsby for the leadership in run scoring.

ANOTHER SENSATION

Now comes Eddie Morgan with a promise to be the star of the freshman class this year. Morgan will play centrefield for the Cleveland Indians, not so well as did Tris Speaker, but well enough for a young feliow who was born the year "Spoke" started his baseball career as a member of the team of the Fort Worth Polytechnic Institute.

Morgan, a college product, has had only one year in professional ball, but he took full advantage of his opportunities at New Orleans to bat .355, his attack running heavily to extra bases. He stole twenty-three bases. Morgan was a catcher at Tulane University, but he was fast enough to play a great half-back on the green football team and win all-conference recognition on the basketball quintette.

The new crop of outfielders is unusually good this year. "Pid" Purdy, who doubles in professional football, has all but made his position certain with the Cincinnati Reds and John Leonard Martin, perhaps the fastest runner in either league, has made such an impression in the Cardinal camp that regular St. Louis outfielders of other years are uneasy as the "Rabbit" dashes by.

IN INNER CIRCLE

Paul Easterling, an added starter with the Detroit Tigers, has fought his way into the inner circle and will play many games.

Doug Taitt, ready to do his bit for the Boston Red Sox, if given a chance, is a rightfielder rather than a centrefielder specialist, but that will mean little to a man who has so much pep that his Nashville manager, Jimmy Hamilton, declared he could beat the third baseman to the bench.

It's great to be young and an outfielder.

Philadelphia, March 29—Word drifted up from the South to-day that Manager Mack is far from pleased with the showing of the Athletics to date. Mack and some of the squad are en route to Philadelphia, while Captain Eddie Collins, with the main group in tow, will stop in Greensboro, N.C., for an exhibition game to-morrow. All hands are expected here by Saturday in time for the opening of the city series with the Phillies, who are also homeward bound.

Shreveport, La., March 29.—Red Faber, veteran member of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff, seems ready for another good season in the majors.

In his initial appearance of the season yesterday Faber's spitball and curves broke as they did in the heyday of his career, and outside of a wabbly beginning he mastered the Shreveport batsmen. His mound work was taken up by "Harmonica" Goodall, a rookie, in the sixth inning and the Sox won 11-6.

Oakland, Cal., March 29—Donie Bush smiled to-day for his Pittsburgh Pirates, viewing the sunshine for the first time in a week, hit everything served to them yesterday, totaling seventeen hits.

Glen Wright led the attack with four singles while Captain Pie Traynor and Clyde Barnhart each got three. In the fourth inning of the game the Pirates batted around. Johnny Miljus and Carmen Hill proved Bush needn't worry about his twirlers' long layoff, for each scintillated.

San Antonio, March 29.—The science of bunting, which slumped with the advent of the lively ball, is on the road to revival in the Detroit Tigers' camp here.

Manager Moriarty has ordered his crew of sluggers to get in at least one bunting practice each day with particular stress to be placed on the long drag bunt.

The Tigers say the loss of many games last season was due to lack of proficiency in bunting.

Miami, March 29. — Skeptics who have been worrying about the condition of the szar mundsmen of the Robins breathed easier to-day as a result of the sparkling form shown by Robbie's two aces, Vance and Petty. The potent bats of the Braves which shelled the Yankees to cover, were silenced to a lone bingle yesterday as the flock took off the opener of a four-game series by 9 to 0. Vance gave one hit in four innings, Petty none in five.

St. Petersburg, March 29. — Tony Lazzeri, Yankees' second baseman, has been detached from the Ruppert losing exhibition special. Tony, who strained his side taking a healthy wallop at the ball, is pointed for New York direct to rest up instead of touring.

The Yanks were belted by the Buffalo Bisons yesterday, 5-4. The mighty Babe Ruth wasted an opportunity at the plate in the ninth, hitting into a double play with two on base and one out.

Los Angeles, March 29—Manager Joe McCarthy of Chicago Cubs is determined to plug the infield hole which was blamed for allowing the National League pennant to flap away last year.

With a coterie of the most brilliant minor league infielders in years already on his roster, he yesterday traded Pitcher Bob Osborne for Ray Jacobs, Los Angeles infielder.

Triumphant in their series with Pacific League clubs, the Cubs to-day were anxious to try their talent against last year's National League pennant winners, Pittsburgh. The teams are billed for a five-game series, starting to-day.

Los Angeles, March 29.—Jack Welch, young Chicago Cub right hander, allowed but three scattered hits, while his mates hammered the ball viciously to defeat Hollywood, 10-0 yesterday. Eight of the runs were scored in the first inning. Six singles and three doubles were made by the Cubs in the initial innings rally.

The score—	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	10	17	1
Hollywood	0	7	1

Batteries: Welch and Hartnett, Leggett; Kinney, Rose, Jacobs and Agnew.

Oakland, March 29.—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday ended their series of exhibition baseball games in the Bay region yesterday, by handing Oakland, champions of the Pacific Coast League, an 11-5 beating.

Glenn Wright, Pittsburgh shortstop, hit safely four out of five times at bat, one being a homer.

The Pirates slammed out seventeen hits and played errorless ball. The Oaks used three pitchers, but could not stop the Pirates sluggers.

The score—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh	11	17	0
Oakland	5	10	1

Batteries: Hill, Miljus and Smith; Ault, Gould, Graghead and Read.

Tampa, March 29.—Sherdel and Haines pitched in form yesterday and the St. Louis Cardinals shut out the Washington Senators, 2-0. Sherdel allowed only three hits in the first five innings and Haines gave two in the last four. The Cardinals fielded errorlessly, and concentrated an attack to Lisenbee in the sixth to score the runs necessary to win.

The score—	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	2	8	1
Washington	0	5	1

Batteries: Sherdel, Haines and Davis; Lisenbee, Sachary and McMullen.

New Orleans, March 29.—Cleveland's Indians made it five out of seven with New Orleans, and seven out of eleven for the exhibition season yesterday, beating the Pelicans, 4-3.

Billy Bayne, a slight-built southpaw, allowed New Orleans one run in each of the three first innings due to wildness. He proved invincible in the next two frames as did Garland Buckeye, who finished.

The score—	R.	H.	E.
New Orleans	3	7	0
Cleveland	4	8	1

Batteries: Williams and Dowie; Bayne and Sewell.

Miami, March 29.—Dazzy Vance and Jess Petty were in midseason form yesterday, and Brooklyn blanked the Boston Braves, 9-0, the Redskins getting only two singles. Vance pitched four innings and gave up one hit. Petty finished and allowed the same number.

While this was going on, Bob Smith and Foster Edwards were taking some terrific punishment from the Dodger outfit. Thirteen safeties, including two doubles and a pair of triples made up the Dodger offensive.

The score—	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	9	13	0
Boston	0	2	2

Batteries: Vance, Petty and Hargraves; Smith, Edwards and Taylor.

Shreveport, March 29.—Shreveport executed a triple play against the Chicago White Sox in the eighth of yesterday's ame, but the Sox won, 11-6.

The triple play was started by Holman, Shreveport third sacker, who caught Barrett's line drive, tagged Metzler off third and then tossed to Whelan, who caught Kamm off first. The White Sox scored six in the seventh inning.

The score—	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	11	14	2
Shreveport	6	12	2

Batteries: Faber, Goodall and Bergs; McCurdy, Wilkins and Haywood.

Memphis, Tenn., March 29.—The St. Louis Browns bunched hits off Johnson for four runs in the first two innings yesterday and won from Memphis, 5-2. Heinie Manush got into the game for the first time this season and got one hit in two times at bat. Clyde Manion, Brown catcher, was forced to retire in the first inning with a badly split thumb.

The score—	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	5	7	0
Memphis	2	9	2

Batteries: Coffman, Strelcki and Manion; O'Neill, Johnson, Shepperd and McCrea, Berger.

St. Peterburg, Fla., March 29.—The New York Yanks took a beating yesterday from Buffalo, of the International League, the score being 5-4, and it was the champions' eighth beating in nine starts. Wild and ineffective pitching by Pipgras, in the fourth and sixth, gave the International League champions, all their runs.

Augusta, March 29.—Bill Carrigan's Boston Red Sox took their daily beating from the New York Giants, 8-5, in a wild slugging affray featured by four home runs. Twenty-four hits, including the four round-trip blows, two triples and six doubles, were made. Lindstrom, Ott, Berry and Myer were the homers.

Rangers and Maroons Are Favored To Win Play-off Games In N.H.L. To-night

Montreal, March 29.—With Montreal's hopes of winning the Allan Cup gone, local hockey fans turned their hopes of a 1928 victory to the professionals. To-night in the Canadian section semi-finals, Ottawa Senators and Montreal Maroons complete the home and home series started at the capital on Tuesday when the locals brought home a one-nil victory.

Maroons are favorites here, and an all-Montreal final in the section is hoped for. Ottawa have not been successful on Montreal ice this year.

New York, March 29.—The Pittsburgh Pirates face a herculean task to save themselves from elimination in the ice hockey play-offs by the New York Rangers to-night when they meet at Madison Square Garden. The Rangers start with an advantage as a result of a superb four-to-nothing victory won from the Pirates on Tuesday.

Nothing but overconfidence or some other unexpected contingency can beat the Rangers to-night and prevent them from going on to meet the Boston Bruins for a right to contest in the world's championship finals.

SCHOOL GROUNDS AT SIDNEY ARE MUCH IMPROVED

Trees and Shrubs Planted By Trustees, Teachers and Pupils at Ceremony

Special to The Times

Sidney, March 29.—Considerable improvement work has been carried out on the grounds of the North Saanich School.

Since the establishment of the school in its present location a definite plan of improvement has been pursued by the trustees in clearing, seeding and draining the ground to make it suitable for playing fields. As a result of their work, the trustees secured the grant from the Department of Education for ground improvement and also a valuable consignment of trees and shrubs. As a result the front and two sides of the grounds have now been planted with spruce and maple trees, and borders of flowering shrubs have been laid out.

On March 23 the avenue leading from Centre Road to the school building was planted with trees in the presence of the pupils, parents and friends.

A. McDonald, chairman of the board, explained what had been accomplished and the aims of the board.

E.-R. Hall of the Experimental Station, gave a talk on "Tree Planting and Tree Culture," and the principal briefly explained the plan of planting the avenue and the importance and significance of trees. The company then proceeded to the grounds, where a tree was planted by each of the trustees and teachers and by a pupil selected by vote from each of the ten grades of the school. As soon as funds are available further work of improvement will be carried out.

VOTES APPROVE NEW PRAYER BOOK

London, March 29—The joint meeting of the upper and lower houses of the Convocations of the Ecclesiastical Provinces of Canterbury and York, held at Westminster yesterday to consider the Prayer Book measure as amended by the House of Bishops, represented the vital stage of the Prayer Book battle, as the convocations were to give or withold without qualifications their assent to the new Prayer Book being passed to the General Assembly of the Church of England for final approval.

The upper house of the Canterbury Convocation accepted the measure by twenty votes to six and the upper house of York accepted it unanimously.

SOLUTION NEAR

The Archbishop of Canterbury said he earnestly trusted they were now in the process of bringing to a close an ancient and long-drawn-out controversy and obtaining finally the solution for which they had prayed during the years of effort. He urged them to let the Prayer Book come into use where and as it was wanted.

"It will make for unity, order and peace," he concluded.

The Archbishop of York said they ought to think not primarily of the effect of their action on Parliament, but upon the church itself.

The houses are in session again today.

PENDER ISLAND

Pender Island, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Scott have returned to their home at Port Washington, after an extended visit with relatives in the Old Country.

A very pleasing ceremony took place on Sunday afternoon in St. Peter's Anglican Church, when the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bridge was christened by the Rev. R. D. Porter, the name given being Elizabeth Anne. S. Percival and Miss Hampshire accepted the responsibility of godparents.

Mrs. P. W. Garrett spent the week-end in Vancouver.

Mrs. Thomas Newnham and little grandson, Tommy Muir, returned to Vancouver last week, after a fortnight at their home here.

"I wish I'd known"

There's always a new experience ahead — something you haven't done before and which calls for a decision.

You become engaged—and immediately you are called upon to decide on the purchase of many, many things you never bought before.

You marry—and furniture, draperies, silverware, china, talking machines, oil-burners, gas-stoves, automobiles claim your dollars and call for your choice.

A baby comes—and again you face a new experience in purchasing clothes and powders and blankets; in buying a crib, baby-carriage, foods, toys.

Next—what school? For the years pass incredibly fast. Once, more a new decision.

Every room in your house requires a choice. Every meal served in your dining-room results from your having decided on what to serve. Every day confronts you with a multitude of possibilities from which you must select those which make life happier and better, and make the dollars go farther.

How on earth are you going to make those decisions? How can you know what you want and what you don't want? How can you buy to such advantage that you'll seldom, if ever, have occasion to use that futile phrase, "I wish I'd bought something else"?

E. J. Greenway, Director of J. S. Fry & Sons Ltd., Touring West

E. J. Greenway, director in charge of sales and advertising of J. S. Fry & Sons Limited, which is a branch of the old English firm of Fry & Sons, the oldest chocolate manufacturers in the world, who is visiting Victoria, expressed himself to The Times as being greatly pleased with the rapid development of Victoria. Next year Frys will celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the business as it was founded by Dr. Joseph Fry, a Quaker, in 1728. In connection with this celebration the Canadian firm will build a dance and general recreation hall for the benefit of its large manufacturing plant in Montreal.

Mr. Greenway is visiting the branches in the West with the idea of ascertaining what are the business prospects.

He expressed himself as impressed with the necessity of bringing British workers to Canada, provided a safe and sane immigration policy could be decided upon and worked co-operatively by the British and Canadian governments. To increase the population of the West would mean the springing up of manufacturing institutions here, he said, and this would be mutually helpful to both countries.

SHOULD IMPROVE FARMS

Britain has her problem of unemployment and while Mr. Greenway did not approve of flooding Canada with artisans, he thought that if the farms could be built up and the population thus increased, the resultant demand for manufacturing industries would provide employment for men in the cities also. Co-operation between the two governments, he said, is what is needed.

The Fry Company plan an enlargement of the works at Montreal required by the increase in business. This firm, Mr. Greenway said, had always been progressive. This was shown by the fact that this firm was one of the first to adopt the use of the steam engine. Dr. Fry, the founder, purchased one of the original Watt steam engines.

Mr. Greenway was accompanied by G. Payne, resident manager for British Columbia.

REV. DR. MILLIGAN DIES IN TORONTO

Presbyterian Veteran Was General Moderator in 1904; Known Here

Many Victoria members of the Presbyterian Church in Canada will share in the general regret at the passing in Toronto on March 22 of Rev. Dr. G. M. Milligan, D.D. LL.D., a former moderator of the General Assembly and one of the veterans of Presbyterianism in Canada.

Dr. Milligan was in his eighty-eighth year, and on the Sunday before his death his old church, Old St. Andrew's, Toronto, of which he was pastor emeritus, celebrated its fiftieth anniversary.

The history of his work in the Presbyterian Church in Canada is attended by an example of glowing fidelity to ideals, a tenacity of purpose, and staunch and unwavering support of some religious principles. Born at Wick, Caithness, in the very north of Scotland, on August 11, 1840, Rev. Geo. Macbeth Milligan received his early education at Pultenay Academy in that place. Later, at the age of sixteen, coming to Canada, he entered Queen's University, Kingston, from which institution he took his B.A. degree with honors in 1862.

For a short time following his graduation Dr. Milligan taught school at Wolfe Island, but very shortly, pursuing his natural bent, he began his theological course at Princeton University in 1866. In 1867 he obtained his license to preach from the Presbytery of New Brunswick and New Jersey.

Leaving Detroit in 1876, he came to Toronto and took over the pastorate of Old St. Andrew's.

As pastor of Old St. Andrew's, Dr. Milligan remained until 1910, when owing to ill-health he was forced to give up active work. He was made moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly in 1904. He was president of the Toronto Ministerial Association and of Queen's University Alumni Association, as well as trustee of Queen's and a senator of Knox College Toronto.

Surviving Dr. Milligan are one daughter, Mrs. Fraser Macdonald of Jarvis Street, and one son, W. G. Milligan, 400 Shelbourne Street. Mrs. Milligan and one younger daughter predeceased him some time ago.

LANGFORD WILL SEND DELEGATES TO CONFERENCE

Mrs. Phipps and Miss Savory to Attend Island District Meeting at Duncan

Special to The Times

Langford, March 29.—The monthly meeting of the Langford Women's Institute was held in their hall Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. J. L. Brown, president, presiding.

Directions for long cuffs which the members undertook to make for the patients of the Solarium were given out, and four members agreed to make Summer dresses for the children in response to a request.

Mrs. E. H. Phipps was appointed official delegates and Miss L. M. A. Savory the institute's accredited delegate to the Vancouver Island District Conference to be held at Duncan in May.

Mrs. J. S. McLaughlan, superintendent of Women's Institutes, sent particulars of the old-fashion quilt and rug exhibition to be held shortly in Vancouver.

Two resolutions from the Shirley and Royal Oak Institutes were discussed, also one from the Colwood Women's Institute, suggesting a memorial to the late Mrs. A. Hoodless, foundress of the Women's Institute.

ROADS IN POOR SHAPE

A small roadway to Langford Lake cannot be used on account of stumps, broom, etc., so the secretary was instructed to write to the proper authorities to have the two public roads to the lake made passable. The idea of forming a Brownie and Girl Guides' branch in the district is not practical at present owing to lack of leadership.

The institute decided to compete at the Vancouver Island Spring flower show, and also to hold a local Spring flower show with special classes for children on Saturday, April 15.

Miss Blankenbach, home economic teacher in the Victoria schools, gave a talk on the courses in home economics given to the girl pupils in six, seven and eight grades in the city public schools. The teaching includes making of simple garments, food values, cooking, preserving, budgeting, home nursing, value of money, etc.

FAVOR TECHNICAL SCHOOL

The speaker spoke in favor of the proposed technical school, stating the many lines of work girls could follow after a thorough domestic science training.

Mrs. T. W. Brindley, the local institute's home economic convener, thanked Miss Blakenbach for coming on behalf of the institute.

A delicious tea terminated a pleasant afternoon and was served by Mrs. George Newbury, Mrs. H. Pearce and Miss Helen Newbury.

SEES REVIVAL HEADING WEST

Winnipeg Business Man, Back From Convention, Sees Promise in Real Estate

W. E. Gardiner, a director of the National Realtors' Association, here from Winnipeg after visiting the mid-Winter convention of the organization at Houston Texas, was a speaker at the bi-weekly meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board in the Chamber of Commerce Cafe yesterday.

After having looked over the land sale situation in Texas and California, Mr. Gardiner finds the latter state suffering from a considerable slump. But in Texas, he says, business is good.

Speaking for Western Canada, Mr. Gardiner stated that the Winnipeg, Edmonton and Calgary real estate markets were strong. They had not been as good in years and their consistent stability was a sign of a revival. Mr. Gardiner stated that Vancouver and Victoria were both benefiting from the same situation, with the interest of the people of California and other parts steadily moving North.

"There are thousands," he said, "who are looking to this country as a holiday resort. It will mean big business for you here. You should make the most of your opportunity."

CONVENTION PLANS

Reports from various committees on plans for the convention of the Pacific Northwest Realtors' Association to be held here July 18-22, were made the meeting by Alfred Carmichael and others.

One of the big features of entertainment for the convention will be the programme of the carnival at the Crystal Garden, which will include beauty contests for men and women, swimming races, pool events and a miniature Monte Carlo in the banquet hall. Other items on the convention entertainment programme include a dance on the first evening of the conclave of realtors, the carnival on the second, cup oratory contest on the third and a banquet on the fourth night.

"SALADA" TEA

Dark-skinned natives—glowing sunlight—cool mountain tops—great ships ploughing through tropic seas—these things all come to mind when a cup of "SALADA" is steaming before you. Such flavour—such fragrance. Try "SALADA".

Luxton

Luxton, March 29.—The friends of Miss Margaret Dale, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Welsh for some time, will regret to learn of the accidental death of her brother on the Prairie. Miss Dale left Tuesday for her home in Grenfell, Sask.

Owing to the Canadian Legion dance at Colwood Friday evening, and the approaching Easter season, the hall committee have decided their next dance will not be held for several weeks.

Colwood

Colwood, March 29.—Colwood residents, who are members of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute, have an opportunity until April 1, of entering the farm garden competition for 1928.

J. W. Little, of Colwood, secretary of Metchosin Farmers' Institute, will be pleased to furnish all information size of garden, varieties of vegetables and all rules of competition. The winner of the competition will become the holder of the Hon. Walter C. Nichol challenge cup.

During the Winter months the Price Edward Branch (No. 91) of the Canadian Legion have arranged some very successful and enjoyable dances, and all arrangements have now been completed for a dance to be held in Colwood Hall, Friday evening, March 30. Special prizes for "spot" dances will be given and Findler's Orchestra will supply the music. Dancing will commence at 8.30 p.m.

A sacred cantata entitled "The Crucifixion," by Stainer, will be given in Colwood Church on Wednesday evening, April 4 at 8 o'clock. The choir of St. John's Church will be assisted by soloists from Albert Head, Metchosin and Langford.

"LUMBAGO HAD ME ALMOST CRAZY"

"The pain in my back and the sudden 'stitches' had me bent double Sometimes the pain would catch me so sharply I almost fainted. I was frantic trying one thing after another. You can imagine my surprise, my joy, when plain 'St. Jacob's Oil' brought me the relief I had sought for years."

"St. Jacob's Oil" gives almost instant relief from soreness, stiffness, lameness and pain! Its action is unique—soothing and penetrating in one. Goes direct to the affected part and draws out all the "ouch." It is one remedy for Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, etc., that never disappoints. And it doesn't burn the skin. Get a trial bottle of "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store and try it out. (Advt.)

VAST HERDS SAVED FROM STARVATION—Western Winters used to claim the lives of thousands of members of the elk tribe (not the lodge). This year, however, the Biological Survey have saved the lives of vast herds of the animals by feeding them 4,000 tons of hay. Those shown above are part of a herd of 2,100 animals kept through the Winter at Jackson Hole.

Two Girls Live On Hot Water and Rice

Because of stomach trouble, Miss A. H. and sister lived on hot water and rice. But since taking Adlerika, they say, they can eat anything and feel fine.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc., (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that often poisoned the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

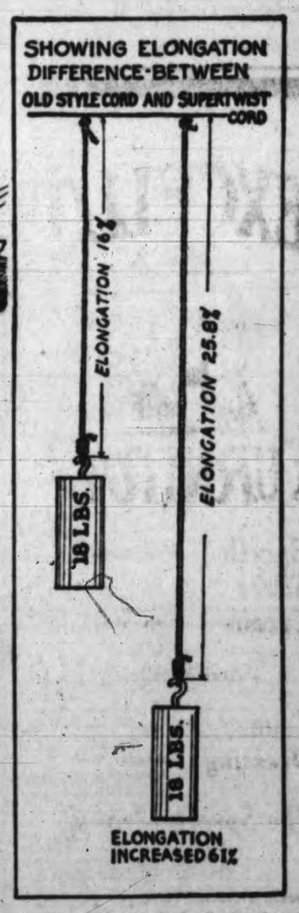
Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal basteria and bacilli."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will astonish you the great amounts of poisonous matter Adlerika brings out—matter you would never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, gas bloating, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold in Victoria by David Spencer Ltd., and other druggists. (Advt.)

$1,200,000 FACTORY to make a CORD!



AT St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, is one of Canada's largest cord mills. Day and night 20,000 spindles hum making cords for Goodyear tires. And all because Goodyear demands an unprecedented quality in SUPERTWIST Cords.

Goodyear created SUPERTWIST Cords. Created them because Goodyear scientists discovered that greater stretch, greater elasticity in the cords would give greater life to tires.

Then, Goodyear acquired a mill to make SUPERTWIST Cords—so that the Goodyear standard would be absolutely maintained—a mill devoted entirely to Goodyear's requirements.

Study the chart which shows why SUPERTWIST Cords do not break so easily under road shocks. All Goodyear Tires are made with SUPERTWIST Cords. Only Goodyear Tires are made with SUPERTWIST Cords.

Jubilee W.A. to Hold Tag Day

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital was held yesterday at 3.30 in the Nurses' Home.

Mrs. Hermann Robertson reported banking membership fees amounting to $6 as follows: Mrs. Sheppard $2 and Mrs. Howell $4. Good work was reported done by the sewing meeting, although the attendance was disappointingly small. Anyone interested in this branch of the work will be most cordially welcomed on the first and second Wednesdays of the month in the Nurses' Home at 2 o'clock.

The buying committee were authorized to purchase some linen required by Miss Mitchell for use in the nurseries and other parts of the hospital.

BEAUTY
* * *
How and Why

By ANN ALYSIS

REFRESH YOUR EYES WITH BORIC ACID

When the eye itself is irritated, or the tiny blood vessels are congested or the eye feels tired, a weak solution of boric acid will act with magic effect.

Tired eyes are fatal to your pretensions to beauty, and here is a simple remedy that will often restore their brilliancy, to say nothing of refreshment:

Boric acid, ten grains.
Distilled water, one ounce.

Make up as much of the solution as you please, but keep the proportions as above. Use in an eye bath. It is a help to the lids and surrounding tissues to apply the solution to them also, by means of a small piece of absorbing cotton.

By following these directions, you will tone up the skin and smooth out those fine little creases that lurk near the corners of the eyes awaiting the passing of the years to bloom forth as full blown wrinkles. A very delicate cream is helpful in preventing and erasing crow's-feet as these aggravating creases are called.

Silver Medal Contest.—A most interesting programme has been arranged in connection with the silver medal elocution contest for senior girls arranged by the Rockland Park W.C.T.U., and to be held in the Metropolitan schoolroom on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. FILM STARS IN DODGE NATIONAL RADIO HOOK-UP TO-NIGHT

The entire nation will be transformed into one vast radio broadcasting studio, Thursday evening, March 29, when Dodge Brothers, Inc., in association with Joseph M. Schenk, President of the United Artists Corporation, presents "Film Stars Radio Hour." Idols of the screen will speak to millions of their admirers from Hollywood, and Paul Whiteman and his orchestra will play from New York. Artists on the programme are: (1) Norma Talmadge; (2) Charles Chaplin; (3) Douglas Fairbanks; (4) D. W. Griffiths; (5) John Barrymore; (6) Dolores Del Rio; (7) Paul Whiteman. The programme will be broadcast through more than forty stations from 6 to 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

OUT OUR WAY —By WILLIAMS

FAMOUS STARS WILL BE HEARD TO-NIGHT

Six Popular Picture Stars Will Speak on Dodge Brothers' Programme

Many people who have seen Norma Talmadge or Dolores Del Rio on the screen have wondered just what they would sound like if they were talking their parts. Radio followers who tune in N.B.C. Pacific Coast Network stations broadcasting the Dodge Brothers Inc. programme this evening, between 6 and 7 o'clock, Pacific standard time, will have just such an opportunity granted.

The cast for the Dodge Brothers programme, if grouped together for one picture, or if they were billed on one vaudeville circuit, would draw so much money for their services that it would be an impossible task to bring it about.

MILLIONS WILL HEAR STARS

With this list of celebrities far outnumbering their programme a few months ago, the Dodge nationwide broadcast will be heard by an audience of 40,000,000 radio listeners. More than fifty cities of the United States are co-operating in broadcasting this mammoth radio treat released over a National Broadcasting Company chain. The featured artists on the programme are Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Chaplin, Norma Talmadge, John Barrymore, D. W. Griffith and Dolores Del Rio, speaking from Hollywood, and Paul Whiteman's Band, playing in New York.

Douglas Fairbanks will officiate as toastmaster at his Hollywood studio bungalow, which is being transformed by radio technicians into a sound-proof chamber in readiness for the gigantic nation-wide broadcast by Dodge Brothers Inc.

Lovelace Adapted by Lovelife

In a humorous article on Safety First, Punch parodies Lovelace's famous lines under the caption, "To Lucasta, on Declining to Cross the Street to Her":

Tell me not, sweet, I am unkind
If, though we want to meet,
I'd rather, if you do not mind,
Decline to cross the street.

The wisdom of this course is such
As you would not ignore;
I love you, dearest, very much,
But I love Safety more.

The action of Kennedy versus Hawkins continued before Mr. Justice Gregory in Supreme Court this morning. John Kennedy is claiming damages to the extent of $1,670 from the defendant, E. C. Hawkins, arising out of a motor accident in which plaintiff says he suffered personal damages. W. H. Bullock-Webster appears for the plaintiff, and R. C. Lowe for the defence.

Dishwashers in a large local hotel, who are to be replaced by women as a result of the inauguration of the Male Minimum Wage Act in the catering business of British Columbia, have been given until April 11 to look for other jobs, it was announced to-day. The wage law will become effective on April 1 and the men have been given two weeks' notice.

THREAT BY DOUKHOBORS NOT SERIOUS

Small Radical Sect Not Affecting School Attendance in Colony

While the Sons of Freedom, a radical sect of Doukhobors in the Grand Forks District, have resolved to keep their children from attending public schools and to prepare otherwise for "The Coming Calamity," this movement has had no effect so far on Doukhobor school attendance, long a difficult problem to the Provincial Department of Education.

Officials of the Department said today that the Doukhobor school situation had never been so satisfactory as it is now, with the Russian colonists generally sending their children to the public school classes and otherwise obeying the school laws. Formerly the Doukhobors refused for a long period to allow their children to attend public schools, but a firm stand by the education department eventually solved this problem.

IS SMALL MINORITY

The latest manifesto of the Sons of Freedom, issued from Grand Forks, and received here yesterday, is the first that officials of the Department have heard of any new movement to resist the school laws. They do not believe the manifesto represents the views of any considerable group of the Doukhobors as so far no change in school attendance has been noted in the Doukhobor districts. It was explained that there are radical sects among the Russians, which are opposed to the general pacification policy of the colonies as a whole, but these groups are not sufficiently large to affect the situation seriously.

SEE IN END IN SIGHT

The manifesto of the Sons of Freedom declares that "in the march of this corrupt and fruitless civilization the coming calamity is unavoidable," with this disaster in view, the Sons of Freedom have abandoned the use of leather, milk and eggs. They have decided to keep their children from school as these institutions "are turning them into slaves of Satan." Besides, they will "never make entries into the books of births and deaths for we know that the Creator has already entered us into the Book of Life." The year 1928, it is stated, will be the "last call to a peaceful life." Alex Doutoff of West Grand Forks, William Wlosoff and Anatol Fromin signed this extraordinary document, which apparently is being distributed broadcast.

CADBORO BAY GIRL WINS AT LIVESTOCK SHOW

Kamloops, March 29.—The tenth annual Fat Stock Show and Sale is in progress here to-day, having been opened yesterday.

A noticeable feature of the show is the distinct improvement in the animals offered both in the fat stock and breeding sections. D. A. Mackenzie of the Dominion Stockyards, Calgary, who judged the fat stock, and John Strachan, Winnipeg, Canadian National Railway agricultural representative, who judge the breeding stock, both of whom have attended the sales for many years, yesterday referred to this fact. Professor George E. Day, secretary of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association, also paid a high compliment to the British Columbia breeders, stating that one could travel much farther and not get any better animals than were offered at this sale.

ISLAND WINNER

The entries in the boys' and girls' calf feeding competition gave evidence of the result of some years of work among the young people, and some highly finished animals were seen.

The heroine of this event was little Annie Turner of Cadboro Bay, who not only won the senior calf competition, but also the championship of that event, and was later declared the winner of the championship of the fat stock section and the winner of the David Spencer trophy, which, as it has been won twice previously by the Turner family, becomes their permanent property. She also won several special prizes with her entry.

BISHOP BREWING TALKS TO ROTARY

World's Progress Depends Upon Spread of Religious Spirit, Says Divine

The relationship between religion and everyday life was sketched to the Rotary Club to-day at the Empress Hotel by Rt. Rev. Dr. W. W. Brewing of Toronto, who told of the progress of religious thinkers in recent years, and declared critics, such as H. G. Wells, to be behind the times, reviewing theories long abandoned by church leaders, and then attacking these discarded ideas.

"We are coming to the time when religion in its larger aspects ought to get that publicity being accorded secular affairs," said Dr. Brewing, praising the publicity campaign jointly carried on by the life insurance companies.

Dr. Brewing said that in recent years the world has been impressed by the appearance of men around whom great movements pivot. He cited the original plans for celebration of Armistice Day in England, and the overwhelming public support accorded a man with courage enough to protest against organization of balls and entertainments. "It took a lot of courage for that one man to express his opinion. A good many things have happened in this world because a man had courage to express his belief in the matter," Dr. Brewing declared.

A GREAT EFFORT

He believed the League of Nations to be the greatest thing yet attempted by men, but unless permeated with the Christian spirit will meet the failure which has hitherto befallen all similar previous efforts.

"If there is a place on earth where there should be prophets it should be in the legislatures of our country," declared Dr. Brewing, telling of Sunday afternoon experiences in Hyde Park, the safety valve of London, where policemen attend the debates of radicals to prevent objectors from interfering with the speakers.

NATIONAL BARRIER

"I am firmly convinced that narrow nationality is the greatest enemy of Christianity," Dr. Brewing said. He remarked that the great bulk of the wealth of the world is in the hands of religious men. "It is a fact that the great rewards of the world have been entrusted to Christian men," he said.

In recent years the Christian church has been a source of influence, flowing into all the affairs of men, in all parts of the world.

"The world's success in the future will depend upon a multitude of little influences in business and public affairs, bound together in the Christian spirit," he said, pointing out that the progress of the world has arrived at the point where no man may longer live to himself alone.

Beer Parlors to Be New Features Of Golf Clubs

Beer parlors are becoming a feature of the Winnipeg golf courses, according to S. F. Groff, a business man of the Manitoba capital, who is in the city enjoying a few days' relaxation.

The St. Charles Country Club at Winnipeg, of which Mr. Groff is a member, is equipping a beer parlor in the clubhouse at a cost of about $12,000.

Other innovations are being introduced by the club executive, these, however, having to do with the water system for the proper maintenance of the greens and fairways.

"There is no comparison between our golf courses and the courses you have here in Victoria," said Mr. Groff. "Our's are largely artificial."

"This is a pleasant place. I am golfing every day; there is nothing like it."

Oak Bay yesterday. Colwood today. See you later.

Mr. Groff, wearing a light grey sports suit and tartan hose, swung through the revolving door of the Empress Hotel with a businesslike bag of clubs slung over the shoulder.

"I'M RETIRED" SAYS BOWSER

Old Tory Leader as Mysterious as Ever About Political Activities

W. J. Bowser, K.C., former Conservative Party Leader, returned home here yesterday after spending the Winter in California, as mysterious as ever about his future political activities.

"I am living a retired life so far as politics is concerned," Mr. Bowser said, when asked about persistent reports that he will be a candidate for the Legislature at the next election.

The former leader, however, was quite willing to hear the latest news of happenings in the federal and provincial election field, but only as a private citizen, with the average man's interest in such things.

"I'm living a retired life now," he repeated when asked again what he intended to do in the next election. Meanwhile Mr. Bowser's friends have been active all Winter in preparation for his candidature for the Legislature here or in Vancouver.

SAANICH SCHOOLS TO HAVE LIBRARIES

School Board Plans Circulation of Many Volumes

The schools of Saanich will shortly be equipped with school libraries, specially designed for use by the pupils during the silent reading periods of school hours.

At a meeting of the Saanich School Board held last night the trustees agreed that provision of suitable literature for use in the silent reading periods was long overdue, and that immediate steps must be taken to fill the need.

A committee will report at the next meeting of the board as to the type of books to be provided the schools, the cost of a full equipment for all classes and the advisability of commencing by first equipping the lower grades.

TO CIRCULATE WORKS

It is proposed that each school in Saanich shall be given a set of works designed to promote general knowledge, and acquaintance with the best literature. When the pupils have perused the collections supplied, the works would be exchanged with those supplied to other schools.

As there are approximately 2,000 children attending the public schools of Saanich, the cost of equipment with readers for all pupils is believed to be too heavy for assumption from this year's appropriation, but the board proposes to supply the junior classes this year.

MANAGER OF PREMIER MINE ON VISIT HERE

D. L. Pitt Reports Reconstruction of Fire-destroyed Buildings Well Advanced

D. L. Pitt, general manager of the Premier Mine, who arrived in the city to-day, announces that rapid progress is being made in the reconstruction of the buildings recently destroyed by fire at the mine. The fire loss, which was fully covered by insurance, was about $115,000, and the reconstruction programme will cost in the neighborhood of that amount. "Production is normal at the Premier," stated Manager Pitt this morning in discussing mining activity in the North. "We are now concentrating upon the development of other properties, the most promising of which are the Silverado and the Prosperity."

Very little field work has been done on the Silverado as the snow makes operations difficult, but it is planned to get down to work on this property in real earnest by May.

The Prosperity is showing up particularly well. A vein is now being tapped, and is expected to show big in silver and lead.

He stated they were down 100 feet and planned to go another 300 feet, when the true value of the vein would be ascertained. Ore tests recently made gave 400 ounces to the ton.

Mr. Pitt expects to be in the city for several days before returning to Premier. He is registered at the Empress Hotel.

NEW ZEALAND'S WONDERS SHOWN ON FINE FILMS

Pictures Taken on Canadian Soccer Team Tour to Be Released Shortly

Geysers, Glaciers, Fine Cities, Beautiful Country and the Maoris Shown

A number of citizens were privileged to attend a private showing at the Dominion Theatre this morning of the films brought to Canada by Adl. James Adam, manager of the Canadian football team which toured New Zealand last year.

The two reels took twenty-five minutes to run off, and when they are released for distribution in Canada, theatre-goers will be treated to a very liberal education of the wonders of New Zealand. The films will be shown in Victoria at a date to be announced later.

Although this Province possesses a great deal in the way of natural beauty New Zealand offers a variety of wonders and scenery which it is difficult to believe could be crammed into such a small place. It has everything from geysers, mud pots and miniature volcanoes, to great towering peaks, topped off by Aorangi (Sky Piercer) which pushes nearly 13,000 feet skyward. The pictures take one from a boiling, steaming spring to the cold, jagged glaciers, down calm, peaceful rivers with dense vegetation on the banks, and into the beautiful fjords which rival the best in Norway.

BEAUTIFUL CITIES

The pictures show aerial views of the leading cities, Auckland, Wellington, Christ Church and Dunedin. There is a comedy feature in Christchurch, where the streets are alive with bicycles. The boast of the town is that "everyone owns a bicycle," and it certainly looks like it.

War dances and greetings by the Maoris are also of interest. The tongue plays a great part in these events. The Maoris are very strong, powerful men, and their flappers put on a show all their own, in which, strange to say, the tongue plays no part.

There are glimpses of the Canadian football team in the pictures. They are shown playing at Auckland before 23,000 spectators; at Dunedin, Wellington and Christchurch. At Wellington a splendid shot is made of McDougall, the New Zealand goalie, who plays like a jack-rabbit and saves ten whistling drives in almost as many seconds.

The Canadian players are shown far up on the glaciers; looking at Sutherland Falls, 1,900 feet in height, the highest waterfall in the world; traveling on the Wanganui River, and in various other parts of the country. Ald. Adams is easy to pick out in the pictures.

The pictures will undoubtedly meet with a great reception wherever they are shown.

CATHEDRAL FUND NEAR $60,000

Canvassers Continue Efforts to Reach $100,000 Objective

City canvassers for the new Cathedral fund reported subscriptions last night that brought the total received to date to $59,718. J. E. Wilson, chairman of the committee for completing the nave, presided at a meeting of the canvassers, which was held in the Memorial Hall.

Most of those present stated that they had many more calls to make, and were confident of increasing their returns. While many people were able to give only small sums, the general experience was that most were ready to help as far as they could, as they wished to see the nave finished. It would take time to secure subscriptions from a large number of people.

Canvassers readily undertook to continue their efforts in an endeavor to bring the fund nearer the objective of $100,000. It was also mentioned that subscriptions may be sent direct to the honorary treasurer of the building fund, Sir Richard Lake, at the Memorial Hall, 912 Vancouver Street.

A resolution was passed setting Wednesday, April 11 as the date of the next meeting, when reports of subscriptions received up to that time will be made by all who are co-operating with the committee in endeavoring to secure the money required to complete the first section of the cathedral.

Lindley Crease called attention to the fact that Mr. Keith's design for the cathedral had received the highest praise from eminent architects in Great Britain and America. The character of the work done to date had also been highly commended. It would be a great accomplishment to be able to finish a portion of the building, which could then be opened for daily public use as a house of prayer and worship.

OTTAWA POULTRY HEAD IN VICTORIA

F. C. Elford, Dominion poultry husbandman and chief poultry expert of the Canadian Department of Agriculture, arrived here to-day in the course of a trip of inspection in British Columbia. He conferred with J. R. Terry, B.C. poultry instructor, and other officials of the Provincial Department of Agriculture to get into touch with the poultry situation here. Mr. Elford will visit the Dominion Government's Experimental Farm, Sidney, to-day to see work which is being done there by the Federal Agricultural Department.

He is survived by two brothers, Stanley Baker of this city, George in California, one sister in Vancouver, one sister in San Francisco and four sisters here. The remains will arrive at the Sands Funeral Chapel to-morrow, and funeral announcements will be made later.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, March 29. — Wheat: Market had another bullish session to-day and prices were forced one cent above the previous close, the gains well held. Market was active throughout with a fairly broad trade passing. Opening prices were about ½c higher, with Liverpool fully following Winnipeg advance of yesterday, and moderate buying by one or two export houses, which was said to account for fully 500,000 bushels of May wheat.

Later the buying was largely of a speculative character, buying Winnipeg, July and October against sales in Chicago. The offerings came from country liquidation and profit taking by longs, while the pool was credited with selling a little wheat on the extreme bulges. Our October wheat is now nearly twelve cents higher than at this time last year, and seeding will hardly commence for another two weeks.

Conditions in Western Canada are excellent, there is plenty of moisture in practically every district, as the soil was well soaked last Fall and there is every prospect of a large increase in wheat acreage. These heavy buyings by American interests in all markets is based on the anticipated heavy abandonment in soft Winter wheat states.

Conditions in the extreme South are said to be good or better than a year ago. We advise waiting for recessions before buying, as believe this market is now overbought, however, it may work a little highr. Cash market was unchanged to ¼c higher.

Coarse gains: Further export business in rye was reported, while there was fair demand for oats and barely. All markets made substantial gains, largely in sympathy with the strength shown in wheat. Oats closed ¾c to 1½c higher, barely ⅛ to 1¼c higher, and rye ¾ to 1¼c higher.

Flax: Market advanced in sympathy with other commodities as shorts were forced to cover. Not much interest shown by crushers. Closing figures 1½ to 1⅛c higher.

(By B.C. Bond Corporation direct wire)

Chicago, March 29.—The founder of this firm used to say in regard to market position that it was almost as bad to be right at the wrong time as it was to be wrong altogether.

People in the Southwest who have a very rosy prospect for a wheat crop, may be right in their bearish notions before we gather the crop, but right now the market is far more influenced by conditions in the soft wheat states and by similar bullish advices in regard to European crops, than by any estimates of what Kansas and Oklahoma may produce if conditions continue favorable.

The trade generally keeps in mind the fickleness of the seasons in the Southwest, and knows that brilliant early prospects do not always materialize.

Corn: If as reported spreaders were buying wheat and selling corn, the pressure on corn was not seriously in evidence for the market climbed up 1½ cents without much trouble. Better shipping demand here and additional industrial buying in the Southwest were strengthening factors. Primary receipts and shipments pretty nearly balance and since corne consumption by local industrials at primary markets is said to run about 500,000 bushels per day, it is hardly likely that the visible supplies will show much, if any increase for the week. There continues to be material duplication in primary receipts.

Liverpool due 1¼ to 1½ up.

WHITNEY LETTER

New York, March 29 (By Branson, Brown & Co Ltd.)—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

"Call money was advanced just as I expected it would be when the combiustion of month-end and first quarter-end demand exerted their influence in the market. Likewise as predicted the market in reflecting this development did nothing other than indulge in a very moderate secondary reaction which was insufficient to keep the rail group from advancing to a new high for the year 1928, thereby clearing the way for a continuation of the advance in this group, until it meets the technical obstacle of last year's high record. Nothing other than a moderate increase in brokers' loans is looked for in the statement to be released at the close to-day.

"Oils—The position has been maintained here since last October that the oil stocks would not go any lower than they were then selling, but that, on the other hand, even though the group had made its bottom, there was little incentive to purchase since there would be considerable lapse of time before enough improvement in prices was seen to warrant making a committment. The Oils are slightly above their low prices of the year, but the time has been reached when they should be bought. There has been a decided change, not in the Oil situation as a whole, but in the situation as it affects light crude and gasoline, both of which are now on the verge of a substantial advance. It is recommended that actual entry into the Oil group be taken at this time, and that the medium be the issue with the best banking and market sponsorship, namely Marland Oil, which is recommended for purchase below 40. With a definite turn in Gasoline attention should likewise be directed to Columbian Carbon, which is now at approximately its low price of the year, and is recommended for purchase around 90.

"Reading has established a new high for the year, and is a purchase at and under 110 as is Montana Power around 160, as consolidation terms should make it worth some $25 a share more. U.S. Leather "A" and American Agricultural Pfd. are still literally bargains."

Wall Street To-day

Wall Street Journal's Review of To-day's Stock Market Over B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Leased Wire to The Victoria Times

New York, March 29.—The evening edition of The Wall Street Journal says: "Market was relatively more quiet to-day with some increase in irregularity. Continental Can met a substantial amount of profit-taking, and other leading industrials which have been prominent appeared to be subject to realizing sales. Secretary Mellon's statement that the gold export movement was not likely to disturb credit conditions in this country was used to refute the argument that a continuance of exports might lead to higher money rates, particularly if general business demand increasing accommodations.

Coppers were strong in the early part of the day, but sagged in the afternoon. Considerable pressure was put on General Motors, presumably on the theory that if this leader would be forced down the selling movement would spread through the list. However, the determined rise in General Electric served to divert attention, and later General Motors held firm around 185. Consolidated Gas rose to its best levels in six years.

Active buying of the Northwestern rails featured the early afternoon with increasing attention paid to predictions that this territory was in excellent position to furnish the carriers serving it with an increasing freight tonnage. Near the close the whole market became rather mixed, many traders as usual withdrawing until brokers' loans were made public. Call money 4¾ per cent all day.

Brokers' loans increased $46,665,000.

No change in New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate.

Montreal To-day

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

By B.C. Bond Corporation Direct Wire

Montreal, March 29—The bullish enthusiasm of the Montreal stock market continued to have even a more striking influence than ever on prices and advances were the order of the day Thursday.

Brazilian's performance was one of the most striking of the list and the manner in which this leader has led the pace has surprised its most devoted admirers. This is believed to be due in a large measure to the benefit of the split shares and as a gain of one point for the news means four points of the old stock, it necessarily make a big impression on the latter. While this possibility was discussed at the time the split was under discussion the actually performance has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of its warmest admirers. The old stock touched 232 and it was selling at an even 200 at the end of February this more of 32 points in less than a month is one of the best showings the stock has ever made.

The paper stocks under the influence of arrival of rumors about Brompton and Wayagamack, formed an important item of the day. Shares of the two mentioned companies fluctuated widely and so far as can be ascertained there is nothing in the rumors at present.

Howard Smith was another stock to jump around violently but with more reaction as there is no doubt that one of the big financial houses has been nibbling for the business but has not yet made a high enough point to suit the insiders. It is reported that 140 was offered for the stock but unless this is increased the present management will undertake to reconstruct the financial structure on its own account. Abitibi and Canada Power were also strong. Bridge, Massey Harris, Nickel, Smelters and few others were quite active. There is no reason to doubt but that the bull market will continue with attention likely to shift quarters which have as yet felt little influence.

BOND MARKET MORE ACTIVE

New York, March 29.—The bond market to-day displayed increasing activity and a firm undertone.

St. Paul 5s of 2000 again were a feature, reaching a new high at 71⅝. St. Paul 5s of 1975 also were in demand, but showed no change after opening at a new peak of 98¼. Brooklyn-Manhattan transit 6s advanced to new high ground at 99½. Erie convertible 4s and Southern refunding 4s were inclined to heaviness.

Andes Copper Mine 7s, gaining more than a point and recording a new high at 132¾, reflected the strength of copper company stocks on the "big board." Similar improvement in the prices of oil company shares lifted Mutual Fuel Gas 5s more than a point to a new high at 104¼.

Park-Lexington 6½s and American Beet Sugar 6s advanced more than a point each.

The foreign group was firm, with Belgian and Italian Government and Copenhagen City obligations leading the advance.

Little activity was in evidence in trading in United States Government bonds.

TORONTO STOCKS ERRATIC

Toronto, March 29.—Erratic price movements marked to-day's session of the stock market. Brazilian was an outstanding strong feature, the ordinary stock climing to 226½ and the rights and new issues appreciating accordingly.

On the strong side also was British Columbia Fishing, the common firming to 12¼, and the preferred gaining six to 73. Gypsum at 61; Nickel at 94¼; Massey Harris at 43½, and Seagram Certificates at 19, were all substantially higher.

MINES CLIMB IN TORONTO

Toronto, March 29.—Strong upward movements in Western issues featured to-day's session of the Standard Mining Exchange. Hudson Bay at noon showed a net gain of 80 points at 17.45. Pend Oreille was up 70 at 22.50, and Sherritt-Gordon sold forty higher at 750. Premier was up to 3.00.

Noranda softened 30 at 17.50, and Wright Hargraves sold down 25 to 445. Teck Hughes eased to 844 and Hollinger to 16.50.

BIG BUYING PUTS PREMIER OVER 3.00

Vancouver, March 29—Pend Oreille and Premier continued the two star operators on the Vancouver Stock Exchange to-day.

Pend Oreille opened at 22.00, rose to a high of 22.25 on two individual sales and then fell back to $22.00 when heavy buying developed. Sales at this price approximated 4,300 shares. The close was 21.50, unchanged.

Premier, responding to the increase in the company's ore reserves represented by the purchase of the control of Porter Idaho, opened at 3.10, an overnight gain of 30 points, later selling down to 305 and closing at 300 with a turnover of approximately 13,000 shares.

Coast Copper again appeared on the board, a block of 20 shares selling at $45,000.

Porter Idaho shaded down, opening at 87 and later selling at 86½ on light turnover.

Grandview was in limited demand at a decline of two from the previous close. The stock opened at 66½ and shaded back further to 66 with only a few thousand shares changing hands.

Cork Province was also down one, at 45 with light trading an offer of 45 for 10,000 was made but not accepted.

Lucky Jim was firmer at 41 on moderate demand, and Ruth Hope continued to move up rising from an opening of 62 to a high of 63.

Trading in Woodbine was in restricted volume at a uniform price of 52. Whitewater was little changed at from 250 to 255.

Silverado came back into the sales list at 95, but later fell back to 93. Rufus and Argenta were steady at around 47 each, and L. & L. showed an upward trend fluctuating between 15 and 16.

YUILL REPORTS ON LUCKY JIM

G. D. Tyson, Victoria manager of Miller, Court & Company, to-day had sent on to him a copy of the wire sent yesterday from Kaslo to S. W. Miller from H. H. Yuill, managing director of the Lucky Jim.

This wire says:

"Lucky Jim preliminary mill runs have been satisfactory. Starting continuous operations to-day on an initial basis of 150 tons a day. Mill feed is at present being derived from breaking into the footwall of the old stopes on the fourth and fifth levels, without drawing on ore reserves previously known. Development on No. 6 level, which is 700 feet on the dip below No. 5, is encouraging."

TO INCREASE PRODUCTION

London, March 29 (Canadian Press Cable).—The National Liberal Federation of Great Britain, meeting here to consider the party's new industrial policy, yesterday passed a resolution urging the conversion of the Ministry of Labor into a ministry of industry, with the object of stimulating cooperation toward efficiency of production. Another resolution carried favored joint negotiating bodies in each industry to deal with problems.

B.C. MINE MARKET ON SPRING RISE

The B.C. mining market shows signs of having seen its worst and of being headed upwards in the start of the anticipated Spring movement.

Buyers are coming into the market all along the list and selling orders are being licked up. Leading the revival are Pend Oreille, which is up in Toronto nearly 5.00 in the last four days, and Premier which went over 3.00 in Toronto today on the news of its acquisition of the Porter-Idaho. The market considers the deal more important for the Premier than for Porter-Idaho, as P.-I. stock to-day remained little changed, while Premier ran up fast. In the B.C. Interior encouraging news came from Nelson to-day that Wellington there had already cut its ore.

Besco Steel Shares May Be Absorbed

Halifax, March 29.—The outstanding shares of the British Empire Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries, amounting to $230,000,000 par value, will be absorbed by the $65,000,000 share capital of the proposed Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, in the opinion of L. M. Stewart, counsel for the incorporators.

Mr. Stewart said to-day that it was the belief of the incorporators that when negotiations have been completed with all the companies involved, the $65,000,000 share capital will have taken over the outstanding shares of Besco and its subsidiaries, but this, he said, was a detail that had not been reached at present. This aspect is not mentioned in the bill now before the Legislature incorporating the new company.

Matching Hats

New daytime gowns in smart reds, purples and off shades of blue just must have hats of matching color to be modish.

Nature Still Ahead

"Swift as the wind," we used to say,
Our planes and cars beat that to-day;
But we shall have to go all right
Ere we backnumber "swift as light."

The courts have reversed the school board in Hazel Park, Mich., which ordered teachers to wear smocks. So the teachers now will wear smocks.

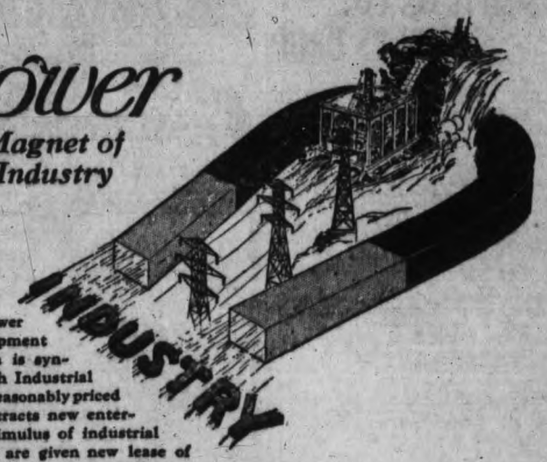
Power
The Magnet of New Industry



Power Development in Canada is synonymous with Industrial Development. Reasonably priced power inevitably attracts new enterprises. ¶ Under the stimulus of industrial expansion old communities are given new lease of life; new communities are established; population flows in. Thus the train of development set in motion is contributing to the solution of pressing national problems such as the tariff and immigration. ¶Investments in Water Power securities are a means of helping to build Canada.

M.P.'s Hear U.S. Federal Reserve Bank Official

Ottawa, March 29.—"A federal banking reserve system organized on the same basis and along the same lines as the United States system would be almost impossible in Canada."

This was the opinion expressed yesterday by Governor W. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Bank, Boston, before the banking and commerce committee of the House of Commons, discussing possible improvements in Canada's banking system.

The Federal Reserve Board of the United States was in no sense a bank, Governor Harding told the committee.

"It cannot loan anybody five cents," he declared. "It exercises a general supervision of the twelve Federal Reserve banks in operation. It can fix the character of the security which may be accepted, but cannot compel a bank to make a loan."

New York, March 29—(By B.C. Bond)—Willys-Overland reports for the year ended December 31, net profits equal after preferred dividend, to $2.04 a share on the common stock, against 22 cents on the common in 1926.

Manitoba Testing B.C. Fertilizers

Winnipeg, March 29.—Manitoba is participating in experiments that are being made with the use of superphosphates from Trail Smelter in British Columbia, as a fertilizer. J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, stated to-day, when commenting on reports that six cars of the by-product had been shipped to points on the prairies.

The result of the experiments are being watched with great interest.

Saskatchewan and Alberta have also got their share of the phosphates, the idea being to make tests of the fertilizer over as wide an area as possible, Mr. Evans said.

Kootenay Florence Hits Softer Rock

Nelson, B.C., March 29—The new tunnel on the Kootenay Florence mine at Princess Creek has reached softer rock. Auger drills are being used and close timbering is now required.

A new 1,050 cubic foot compressor, operated by a 250 horsepower motor, has been ordered and when installed will increase the air capacity to 2,000 cubic feet. Contractors are now busy slashing the site for the power line to the property. Power will be supplied by the city of Nelson. A new boarding house for 100 men has been practically completed and work will shortly start on construction of a bunk house.

Age is a mental condition, according to Mrs. Whiffen, veteran actress, who has just celebrated her sixty-third anniversary as a trouper. So, we might add, is youth, sometimes.

WELLINGTON HITS ORE BODY IN TUNNEL

Nelson, B.C., March 29.—Development work in the Wellington mine, situated on the south fork of Kaslo Creek, has resulted in the striking of an ore body in the Matheson tunnel. Three feet of ore of moderate value was disclosed which has widened to four and one-half feet.

Noranda Ore Body Opened at Depth

Toronto, March 29.—A feature of the annual meeting of Noranda Mining and Smelting Company, held here yesterday, was a detailed report covering exploration work to date prepared by General Manager Hibbert, who stated that commercial ore was known to exist at 740 feet. He outlined the work at the fifth and sixth levels and pointed out that drifts there still had to be continued to get below downward extensions of bodies opened at the 300-foot level and above where there was still much exploration work to be done.

Three additional Toronto men were elected to the board of directors: A. L. Ellsworth, F. M. O'Connell and F. H. Phipp. Other directors re-elected: W. S. Walton, J. Y. Murdock, S. C. Thomson, H. G. Haskell, N. A. Timmins and I. W. Bonbright.

New York Central Issuing More Stock

New York, March 29 (By Branson Brown)—Directors of New York Central are considering the offering of additional capital stock, according to reports in the field yesterday.

The recent advance in New York Central has been taken to indicate the way is being paved for the offering. The increased market price would, of course, mean that holders would be entitled to valuable rights and it is not improbable that the dividend will be increased above the present $8 annual rate soon.

C.N. Power Increases Capital $50,000,000

Montreal, March 29.—At a special general meeting of the shareholders of the Canada Northern Power Corporation held here a proposal to create and issue collateral trust bonds amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $50,000,000 was ratified.

The authorization to increase the capital is taken to be an indication of new developments, and definite news as to the line this will take may be expected shortly.

At the same meeting the number of directors was increased to nine.

GENERAL ELECTRIC EARNINGS LARGER

New York, March 29.—General Electric breaks its record with earnings $6.41 a share on the common, in 1927, against $6.14 in 1926.

HUPP MOTORS DIVIDEND RAISED

New York, March 29 (By B.C. Bond)—Hupp Motors declared a quarterly stock dividend of 2½ per cent and the regular quarterly dividend of 35 cents, placing the stock on a regular ten per cent annual dividend basis, in addition to $1.40 cash annually.

CANADIAN WESTINGHOUSE EARNINGS

Hamilton, Ont., March 29.—Net earnings of $1,574,190 from total earnings in 1927 of $2,581,189 are shown in the annual report of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, presented at the annual meeting here. Payment of dividends leaves $736,074, which, added to the amount carried forward, makes a surplus total of $3,782,197.

Wisconsin Financiers Get Ontario Hardwood

Toronto, March 29.—Hon. William Finlayson, Ontario, Minister of Mines, announced yesterday that an option had been obtained by a Wisconsin syndicate on the holdings of the Matinanda Forest Products Company at Bruce Mines, which ceased operations some months ago because of financial difficulties. The company owed about $75,000 in wages and for supplies when the shutdown came. Mr. Finlayson announces that the new syndicate is backed by plenty of capital and will put about $1,000,000 into the enterprise if they take up the option.

The syndicate includes H. H. Heineman, president of the Citizens National Bank, Merrill, Wis., and his brother, both experienced hardwood men; E. E. Johnston and brother of the Pigeon River Lumber Company of Port Arthur, Fred Potvin of Blind River and certain interests of Wausau, Wis.

The option covers the Caledonia Hardwood Products Company which obtained a grant of timber rights in twenty-two townships from the Ontario government. The Matinanda Company secured eleven townships from private owners.

Tire Prices Stay Up, Shorts Disappointed

New York, March 29.—Traders, who sold rubber shares on the decline in crude rubber, expecting a reduction in the price of finished goods, have been disappointed. No cut has been made in tires or other finished goods and while there may be still some uncertainity, the Spring demand is setting in and should delay any downward price readjustment. Marketwise, this has been reflected in a better tone in rubber stocks.

RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION

Winnipeg, March 29.—Work on the Hudson Bay Railway will be started as soon as the snow goes, according to Donald Grant, superintendent of construction for the Stewart Cameron Company, which has the contract for the remaining 154 miles yet to be built.

B.C. FISHING VESSEL BLOWS UP NEAR SOOKE

Vancouver and Koyquot Men Drift In Open Skiff After Gasboat Disaster

Picked Up By Steamer Admiral Farragut and Transferred to U.S. Cutter

Forced to seek safety in their skiff when an explosion fired their gasboat and burned it to the water's edge, two fishermen were picked up early to-day by the steamer Admiral Farragut, according to word received by the Gonzales wireless station from the steamer this morning.

When found the men had been drifting for three hours in the Strait of Juan de Fuca, fifteen miles west of Race Rocks, not far from Sooke Harbor. They were uninjured and were transferred to the coastguard cutter Snohomish while the Admiral Farragut proceeded on her way to San Francisco from Seattle.

The fishermen, Harold Neave of Kyuquot, V.I., and David Clay of Vancouver, B.C., set out at 9.20 a.m. from Vancouver for Barkley Sound fishing banks, half way up Vancouver Island. During the night they were having motor trouble, when there was a sudden explosion and the craft burst into flames which immediately got beyond control. The two men abandoned the ship at 11 last night and were drifting in the straits until 2 a.m. to-day.

The gasboat, the Bell Tree, owned by Tom Nakmoto of Vancouver and valued at $10,000, was a total loss.

Tugs Acting As Sea Cowboys For Logs In Straits

Port Angeles, March 29.—Fragments of the $150,000 log boom which broke up when it drifted into the Strait of Juan de Fuca Tuesday night, were back in the harbor to-day, while tugs were still gathering other portions of the boom.

Trouble started Monday when a violent southeaster disrupted booms containing logs worth about $400,000. After corraling most of the logs, tugs were tying up a big boom of $150,000 in logs when the wind suddenly changed and carried them toward the strait. A half-dozen tugs, many smaller craft and a Coastguard cutter battled unavailingly to keep the boom from drifting out. But the wind won and the boom was carried into the open waters of the strait, where it broke.

MARINE NOTES

King Bros. are advised the Japanese steamer Fukuyo Maru, inbound from the Orient, will pass up to the Mainland at 2 a.m. to-morrow.

Big Tanker Launched For Oil Company

Montreal, March 29.—A 75,000-barrel tank steamer, recently launched on the Clyde for the McColl-Frontenac Oil Company, is now on its way to the Black Sea for its first cargo. From there it will return to England, after which it will trade between Texas and Montreal. The new steamer has been named "Frontenac," and will give the company the advantage of control of their own transportation facilities between the oil fields and the Montreal refinery.

The company now operates a steamer on the Great Lakes of 7,000 barrel capacity. This is the B. B. McColl, which last season made sixty-two round trips between Toronto and Buffalo, enabling the company to maintain efficient distribution between the Buffalo and Ontario points.

Two Tugs Are Ice-locked On Lake In East

Fate of Five Men on Tug Altawandron in Doubt; Rescue Tug Caught

Brantford, Ont., March 29.—The fate of the tug Altawandron and its crew of five men, locked in the ice on Lake Erie some miles from Long Point, remained in doubt to-day. It was stated by the lightkeepers at Long Point that the visibility was so poor owing to a heavy haze that it was impossible to see any sign of either the Altawandron or the tug Jean F., which was reported to have been ice-locked itself when going to the aid of the Altawandron yesterday. Word has been received at Long Point, however, that another tug had put out from Port Dover in an effort to reach the stranded fishermen, and the lightkeeper reported hearing sounds of heavy explosions as though efforts were being made to dynamite a passage through the ice.

SAGUA LA GRANDE POSTED "MISSING"

Hope Is Given Up For Little British Steamer Swallowed By Pacific

London, March 29—The British steamer Sagua La Grande was posted at Lloyds yesterday as missing.

Halifax, March 29—Another name has been added to the long list of vessels that have disappeared at sea without leaving a trace or sign to indicate their fate and the fate of those who sailed them. On February 25 the little steamer Sagua La Grande, 150 tons, owned in St. John's, Nfld., carrying a crew of fifteen men of that port, was just a month overdue here from Philadelphia with a cargo of hard coal. She had already been given up as lost, presumably having succumbed in a gale that swept the North Atlantic a few days after the voyage started from Philadelphia. Her fate recalls the disappearance of the steamer Cyclops which sailed from a Pacific port during the war, and the Nova Scotia schooner Review, which sailed from here a few years ago for Barbados, neither ever appearing again.

A few days ago a seaman, pale and wasted by sickness, was landed here from a West Indies steamer. He was Celestine Smith and was recovering from an illnes sthat probably saved his life. The Sagua La Grande was at Barbados before going to Philadelphia for her coal cargo, and landed Smith there for hospital treatment. Had sickness not overtaken him he would undoubtedly have sailed on the last fateful journey of the Sagua La Grande.

New Zealand And B.C. Swap Butter and Eggs

Butter and eggs are commodities which are usually closely associated with each other as farm products. But huge shipments of these provisions taken by liners of the Canadian - Australasian service seem to indicate that the two are several thousand miles apart—at least in a trade sense.

With the arrival of the steamer Niagara from the Antipodes to-morrow, approximately 15,400 boxes of butter will come to British Columbia from New Zealand. Cable advices from Auckland, New Zealand, report the arrival of the steamer Aorangi with 10,500 dozen British Columbia eggs, all of which arrived in splendid condition after their journey of over 6,000 miles. New Zealand eggs have dropped in price as a result of this big shipment of B.C. eggs going on the market there.

There are several notables among her first cabin list, including Sir Robert Horne, M.P., former Chancellor of the Exchequer of Great Britain; Gen. J. W. Stewart, C. V. Cummings and William Small, of the Northern Construction Company Limited, who have been in New Zealand to tender on a railway tunnel project, and several other residents of Vancouver and Victoria.

There is a heavy cargo aboard the vessel, totaling about 2,000 tons. The largest item is a shipment of about 16,000 boxes of butter, including 1,700 boxes for this port and 13,700 boxes for Vancouver discharge. Other consignments include mutton, hides, wool, hardwood and Hawaiian pineapples.

OH, BOY! SMELT ARE RUNNING!

It's smelt season along the coast. Which means that on all the smaller rivers scenes like this are being enacted. The smelt, a toothsome, dainty fish, rushes up these rivers by the million in spawning time, and buckets, dipnets, gunnysacks and even bird cages are used to land them. Nobody knows where they come from or where they go—but they're fine eating, anyhow, these Lenten days.

COASTER HAS ROUGH VOYAGE

Canadian National Steamer a Day Late Making Port From California

On her voyage from California to this port to discharge cargo, the Canadian National Steamships freighter Canadian Coaster bucked a stiff gale practically all the way up the coast, and was delayed twenty-four hours, it was learned on arrival of the vessel here this morning.

Hatches were battened down and all movable articles were made fast on deck, and in the cabins as the ship plunged and pitched. She was caught in the midst of the hurricane-like gale which this week did considerable damage along the Washington and Oregon coasts.

The Coaster docked at 5.30 a.m. at Ogden Point. After discharging forty-seven tons of general cargo, she cleared for Vancouver at 7.30 a.m.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

PACIFIC SS. CO. EARNINGS DROP

Loss of $146,419 Shown in Annual Report of Coastwise Line

Seattle, March 29.—The Pacific Steamship Company's earnings in 1927 were less favorable than in 1926, according to the annual report just made public. Gross income dropped from $10,781,695 in 1926 to $9,510,495 in 1927, a decrease of $1,271,200. Alexander, which, in 1926, was employed in the New York to Florida run.

Net income for the year was $134,899; after depreciation, which was $281,319, there was a loss of $146,419.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1928

Benefic aspects dominate to-day, according to astrology, which finds that the good influences are slightly counter-balanced by menacing signs.

Under this rule the brain should be alert and the judgment keen. Lawyers should benefit.

The legal profession is to be much discussed and it is to be extrordinarily prosperous in the coming months.

Judges are to gain fame and to receive high honors from the people. One will succeed in the diplomatic service as a result of a national campaign.

This is read as not a lucky sway for real estate operations. Buyers are likely to change their minds after they have wasted much time.

The seers foretell a time not far off when homes will be conducted as if they were highly specialized business houses. Hotel methods will be applied in the simplest menage and housekeeping will become recognized as a fine art, astrologers prophesy.

Wind storms and electric storms more violent than usual may be expected in many parts of the United States.

An invention of supreme interest to wearers of artificial teeth is prophesied by the seers, who prognosticate dental improvements that completely change accepted methods of to-day.

Astrologers declare that women will be influenced toward true art that will be expressed in their costumes, in which the symbolism of color will be recognized.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of much that is new and interesting in their lives this year.

Children born on this day probably will have first-rate executive ability. The subjects of this sign generally are good organizers.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Narwhal

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was so surprised, when Dustie, the ox, trotted toward him and wanted to know if the rabbit gentleman had brought any with him on his visit to the North Pole, that, for a moment, Mr. Longears did not know what to say.

"Any what?" he asked after a while. "What does he think I brought when Bunty, Vallie and I sailed away from Italy in our airship?" inquired Uncle Wiggily of Eski, the North Pole rabbit boy. "What does Dustie want?"

The shaggy, brown musk ox, whose thick coat of hair was fringed with white, on account of which he was named, stamped his feet in the snow, bellowed again, blowing his white breath out on the frosty air, and said:

"Moss is what I'm looking for! I'm hungry for moss which grows under the snow. But though I've pawed and pawed until I'm tired, I can't find any moss to eat and I'm hungry. I went in that cave," and he pointed to the hole in the side of the snow hill, out of which he had rushed a few minutes before. Eski had told Uncle Wiggily that in the cave were some warm sealskin garments for the visiting rabbits.

"But there wasn't any moss in the cave," went on Dustie. "Did you bring any with you?" he asked Mr. Longears.

"I'm sorry to say I did not," was the answer. Baby Bunty and Vallie were looking curiously at Dustie. They had never seen such a queer animal before. He was something like an ox, something like a big sheep and something like a giant goat. "The last place we came from," went on Uncle Wiggily, "was the volcano Vesuvius and it was so burning hot there that no moss would grow. I'm sorry."

"So am I," sighed Dustie, again pawing in the snow, for that is the way the musk oxen of the North Pole find the moss they must eat. "I don't know what I'm going to do, I'm so hungry."

Just then, farther off over the fields of ice, appeared a herd of reindeer. Bunty and Vallie, seeing them, exclaimed:

"Oh, Santa Claus must be coming!"

"Not yet. It isn't the time of year for him," said Eski with a smile. "But he has reindeer just like those. And I think these reindeer have come to bring good news to Dustie."

"I hope so," bellowed the musk ox, and, surely enough, one of the reindeer bleated out:

"Come with us. We have found a place where much moss grows under the snow. There is enough for all of us to eat!"

"Good!" bellowed the musk ox. Then, flipping his tail in the air, stamping with his feet and jumping around for joy, Dusty ran off to join the herd of reindeer. "I'll see you again, soon!" called Dustie to Uncle Wiggily, Vallie and Bunty.

"I hope so," murmured Bunty. "I want to ask him why he eats moss and if he likes it here at the North Pole," said the little orphan rabbit.

"Moss is about the only thing that will grow under the snow for musk oxen to eat," explained Eski the Eskimo rabbit boy. "As for Dustie liking it here at the North Pole, I think he does for he has been here a long time. The only bad thing about it are wolves."

"Wolves!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily looking anxiously around.

"Don't be afraid," said Eski, "there aren't any wolves now. And when a pack of the hungry wolves chase a herd of musk oxen there is always a fight. The big musk oxen form a circle, with their horns pointing out, and inside the circle the little musk oxen are safe. If the wolves try to bite the little muskoxen the big fellows jab the wolves with their horns. Or else some of the muskoxen jump themselves up in the air and fall down hard on the wolves."

"It must flatten the wolves out like pancakes," said Uncle Wiggily, for he could see that a muskox was a heavy animal.

"It does," said Eski. "Once a muskox falls on a wolf that wolf can't bite anybody for a long, long time. But now we'll go over to the cave, since Dustie is out," and get you some warm clothes."

There were many warm, sealskin garments stored away in the ice cave, and, once they had put on these soft jackets and cozy skin boots, Uncle Wiggily, Bunty and Vallie were as warm as toast.

"Would you like to ride in a kayak?" asked Eski, after the visiting rabbits were snug and warm.

"What's a kayak?" asked Bunty.

"Come, and I'll show you," offered the Eskimo rabbit. He led the way over some ice hills, or hummocks to a little bay of open water. As they reached the shore which was of solid ice, something long, round and twisted was thrust up out of the water.

"Is that a kayak?" asked Bunty.

"No, that is a narwhal!" exclaimed Eski. "Oh, dear me!"

And what happened next will be told in the story after this, which will be about Uncle Wiggily and the white house—that is if you will open the pocketbook and read out of it a story about a lost penny.

RARE COMEDIES ON PROGRAMME OF BIG COMPANY

"Mr. What's His Name," Mr. Seymour Hicks's current presentation at the Royal Victoria Theatre, will conclude the matinee on Wednesday, April 11. Although it is announced as a farcical comedy, it is one that is quite out of the ordinary, having as its basic motive a theme which might quite conceivably be handled as a tragedy.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings Mr. Hicks and Miss Terriss will be seen in a remarkable bill. First, Mr. Hicks will appear in a role that perhaps represents his great skill in character-portrayal, that of Scrooge, in J. G. Buckstone's remarkably dramatic version of "A Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens. This presentation is unique. Although it occupies but forty minutes on the stage, yet in that time the seventeen characters are seen in no less than six distinct tableaux, and the whole period is literally packed with incident and action, enough to provide material for a complete three-act play.

Mr. Hicks will follow "Scrooge" with "Sleeping Partners." There are but three characters on the stage in addition to a servant, but these three hold the audience closely throughout the play. The story is of a gentleman who lays a trap to allure the wife of another gentleman while the latter is dining out with a lady he has met only the night before. Out of this slim material has been fashioned a comedy of the rarest delicacy, charming in atmosphere and fascinating in the refinement of its satire and its wit, with largely diverting situations and the most delicious of peppery dialogue, sparkling with epigram and with bon-mots. Miss Ellaline Terriss in this comedy has one of her very best roles.

"A GRAND EVENING" CO-OPTIMIST PLAY AT CRYSTAL GARDEN

Mr. Richard Blomfield with Co-optimist Comedy Company at Crystal Garden Friday

Friday next marks an interesting epoch in the career of the Co-optimist Comedy Company for the star juvenile lead in the first item of a clever double bill, they have secured the services of the most diminutive actress on the stage to-day. Wee Miss Maggie MacGregor will play in "Room 83," assisted by Miss Lorna Lewin, Miss Marjory Spencer and Richard Blomfield. In the second number of this attractive programme, Mr. Legge-Willis will act the part of an unnecessarily stern judge who is visited, to his great discomfort, by one of his former victims, which part will be taken by Richard Blomfield. The title of this amusing play is "A Grand Evening." Mr. Stephen Langton will be seen in the character of the judge's manservent. This entire presentation and the two hours of dancing to follow promises to be a huge success.

SPECIAL EASTER WEEK PROGRAMME

For Easter Week, April 7 and 9, the Co-optimist Comedy Company will present "David Garrick" in three acts with a full cast. There will be no regular Friday evening play of April 6, but the Garden will present special dance programme at popular prices.

VICTORIA SINGER FIRST ON COLISEUM VAUDEVILLE BILL

A very good vaudeville programme is offered this week at the Coliseum Theatre. First on the bill is Marie McLaughlin, the popular Victoria girl, singing two good classical numbers. Next comes a comedy sketch entitled "The Boatswain's Mate," a one-act playlet. In the cast are Bobbie Stephens, George Durham and Conway Dillingham. Closing the programme is Jock Mair in Scottish Airs. There are good screen attractions.

FAMOUS OPERA IS THEME OF PICTURE NOW AT DOMINION

Flirting with the whole university was Norma Shearer's interesting task for several weeks, during the filming of "The Student Prince," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's massive super production now at the Dominion Theatre.

The famous play, directed by Ernst Lubitsch, and with Ramon Novarro in the role of Karl Heinrich, the character immortalized on the stage by Richard Mansfield, features Miss Shearer in the role of Kathie, the charmer of the student's inn, with whom the young prince falls in love.

In this role she had nearly a thousand students of Heidelberg, enacted by students from the University of Southern California, Stanford and other colleges, to flirt with in the student festival scenes, among the most spectacular and picturesque in in the big production.

If You Need a Tonic Get the Best!

—Hayball.

Mrs. Sophie Salway of 135 Wilson St., Woodstock, Ont., (picture above) said: "I had had an operation and was expecting to have to undergo another. I was in a very poor state of health—was weak, it seemed that all my strength had left me. I could not do anything. It was quite necessary that I have a good tonic to make me strong enough for my second operation so I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it soon had me well and strong, and I came through the operation without any trouble. Several other members of my family have taken the 'Golden Medical Discovery' with equally good results and all have words of praise for it."

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, in Bridgeburg, Ont (Advt.)

Aldo Nadi May Be a New Rudy

Aldo Nadi, aged twenty-nine, world's fencing champion, his title won at Olympic contests at Amsterdam, is cast in the leading role in the screen version of Wythe Williams' story, "Splendid With Swords," winner of the 1925 O. Henry memorial prize, as the best short story of the year.

Nadi, declared by many to be the coming successor of Valentino, is a native Italian. His greatest fencing victory, after defeating his famous brother, was that of the defeat of Lucien Godin, the French champion.

Nadi has passed the cinematographic tests made in his fencing school at Turin, to demonstrate that he can fill in all details the role that has been assigned him in the new film.

Work on the latter will begin immediately at Paris by a French-German company, but the distribution will probably be by the First National.

Film experts who watched Nadi's tests at Turin declare he is destined to pin more feminine hearts on his rapier as a screen star than even Valentino.

Nadi was engaged to train both the French and the Belgian fencing teams for the 1928 Olympic games.

AT THE THEATRES

MANY INDIANS IN "DEVIL'S SADDLE," NEW COLUMBIA PICTURE

The modern delusion that the Indian is a shiftless fellow and that the squaws perform all the work is shattered if the actual scenes of the Hopi tribes, shown in "The Devil's Saddle," at the Columbia Theatre, are as genuine as the directors profess them to be.

Anxiety of the Hopi chiefs and spokesmen to erase that belief from the American mind is chiefly responsible for the privilege of making scenes within the reservation at Flagstaff, Arizona.

The leaders are conscious of this existing belief and, according to Al Rogell, director, are eager to co-operate in circulating the truth.

MASTERED DROP KICK ESPECIALLY FOR FOOTBALL PICTURE

Barthelmess practiced this difficult kick under the direction of Dick Hyand, famous Stanford end, until he could sail the pigskin over the bars from difficult angles on the field.

RICHARD DIX IS COMEDY STAR IN CAPITOL PICTURE

Richard Dix and Malcolm St. Clair, screen star and director respectively, have been reunited with the filming of "Sporting Goods," Paramount's latest production, in which the popular screen star is said to have eclipsed any previous picture made. The production will appear at the Capitol Theatre all this week.

The team of Dix and St. Clair have enjoyed many successes in the past. One of the outstanding pictures of the past season was "Knockout Reilly," in which the two combined their talents, and the resulting picture was claimed by Paramount officials as having been one of the best pictures ever produced by the concern.

GREAT FILM STORY OF WAR-TIME VIENNA OMITS WAR EPISODES

Despite the fact that "The Greater Glory," June Mathis's great super-feature, which will be shown at the Playhouse Theatre to-day, deals entirely with Vienna during and after the war, there is not a single so-called war scene in the entire production.

One of the episodes shows the army of the former glorious Austrian empire going off to the war. But of actual scenes showing fighting at the front there are none.

"The Greater Glory" is an adaptation of "Viennese Medley," celebrated novel by Edith O'Shaughnessy, wife of the American ambassador at Vienna. The screen production was carried out along colossal lines. More than a year was spent by Miss Mathis and a large company in filming the various scenes.

FORTUNE-TELLER PROPHESIED HER METEORIC RISE

When Barbara La Marr, playing a featured role in the Fox Films reissue of Augusta Evans's popular novel, "St. Elmo," which is showing at the Coliseum Theatre, was writing scenarios, with no idea of going into the acting end of the business, a medium predicted for her a screen career. And just as the stars foretold that Miss La Marr would be a great artist, so she is one of the most conspicuous sirens of the silversheet, popular and sought after.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, March 29.—Word was received by the local headquarters of Alexander and Baldwin yesterday announcing that firm's appointment as Northwest general agents for the Australian and New Zealand services of the recently organized Oceanic and Oriental Steamship Company which has taken over the eight steamships purchased from the shipping board. Dingwall, Cotts and Company of Vancouver have been retained as general agents for British Columbia, under the jurisdiction of Alexander and Baldwin.
